139. The examination is for the most part vivâ voce, and extends to a general knowledge of the practical use and working of the steam engine, and of the various valves, fittings, and pieces of machinery connected with it. Intricate theoritical questions on calculations of horse-power or areas of cylinders and valves, or any of the more difficult questions which appertain to steam engines and boilers, will not be asked. The examination will in fact be confined to what a Master of a steam-vessel may be called upon to perform in the case of the death, incapacity, or delinquency of the engineer.

140. Examiners are to be careful in their examinations to satisfy themselves that applicants really do know the names and uses of the various parts of engines and boilers, and their connecting pipes, valves, cocks, &c. Practical knowledge, as distinguished from theories, abstruse calculations, and book learning, is to be the test of the applicant's fitness to have his Certificate indorsed.

Where examination to be conducted.

141. The Examiner should arrange to conduct part of the examination in the engine-room of a Steam-ship, unless from circumstances he finds it impossible to do so; and if an oppportunity offer the applicant should be permitted, under the guidance of the Examiner, to start and stop the engine of some vessel which may have her steam up.

142. The Examiner, in sending in his report of examinations of Masters and Mates in steam, should state where the examination has been held.

Examination in elementary questions.

143. Candidates will be required to give written answers to sixteen out of twenty questions taken from a book of Elementary Questions pulished by the Government.* These questions will be altered from time to time without notice. The twenty questions are not to be difficult, theoretical, or book questions, but are to be such as any man of ordinary capacity ought to answer who has any "practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam-engine."

Answers to be sent to the Board of Trade

144. These questions, with the Candidate's answers, should be sent to the Government, with the reports, after each examination

145. Those answers will also assist in enabling the Government to decide any question that may hereafter arise in cases where it is alleged that applicants have been improperly passed, or improperly rejected.

Candidates referring to books, &c., to be put down as failed

146. The Examiners will be careful that if any Candidate refers to any book or paper or memorandum, or obtains information from another Candidate during the examination, he will be treated as having failed, will forfeit his fee, and will not be allowed to be re-examined for a period of three months.

In cases of failure Examiner to report questions that decided it.

147. The Examiners will report in the case of failure, the nature of the question or questions that decided the failure, or the point in the management of the engine in which the Candidate was deficient.

Service on board Steam-Ship unnecessary

148. There is nothing in the Regulations requiring that applicants for the voluntary examination shall have served on board Steam-Ships ; all that is required is that they shall have a "practical knowledge." Examiners will, of course, not fail to appreciate the fact, when passing applicants, that practical knowledge is best gained in the engine-room ; and the examination of an Officer who does not produce official evidence of service in Steam Ships, and of experience of engines, must necessarily be more searching than in the case of one who produces evidence of such service and experience.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—(No. 46).

BAY OF BENGAL.

ANDAMAN ISLANDS.

Regarding Little Andaman, Jane's Patch and Diligent Straits.

THE following information has been received from Commander Alfred Carpenter, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India:—

Little Andaman.—The bank off the S. W. Point of this Island has now been thoroughly examined. There are some rocky ridges in the centre, partly overgrown with weed, with as little as 5½ fathoms over them. In the S. W. monsoon the rollers on the bank are probably dangerous. The shoal centre lies in latitude 10° 31′ N., longitude 92° 13′ E.

Jane's Patch marked on charts of the Andaman Islands in latitude 12° 9′ N., longitude 93° 12′ E., does not exist; but Minerva Ledge is in its correct position.

Diligent Straits.—These straits having been thoroughly surveyed are found to be free from danger, except between Strait Island and Wilson Island (formerly called Round Hill Point). The dangers in this portion may be avoided by keeping South Button Island, just touching the north point of Outram Island, on a bearing of N. E. ¾ E. South Button Island may be passed close to on its northern side. There is a two-fathom patch one mile north of the N. W. point of Wilson Island (or Round Hill.)

See Admiralty charts 825, 830, 70, and Bay of Bengal Pilot, pages 255, 262, 263.

Bearings are magnetic.

This beacon, constructed of iron and wood, and elevated 36 feet above the sea, is so placed that when kept in line with the beacon of rough masonry previously existing, bearing S 85½° W., the northern limit for crossing the bar of English River is indicated.

NOTE.—Vessels approaching the bar should therefore not navigate northward of the course indicated by these beacons.

Particulars of St. Lazarus bank.

THE British Admiralty have given notice (Notice to Mariners No 107 of 1889) that the following information relating to St. Lazarus bank has been received from Commander T. F. Pullen, being the result of an examination made by H. M. surveying Vessel Stork and her boats, extending over sixdays, from 3rd to 8th February 1889 :—

The area of the bank within the depths of 100 fathoms is fo oblong shape, 11 miles long north and south, with an extreme breadth of 6 miles, and is included between the parallels of 12° 12′ and 12° 22′ S., and long. 41° 20′ and 41° 26½′ E.

The general depth was found to be under 20 fathoms, the nature of the bottom being sand and coral. The shoalest part within the depth of 10 fathoms is near the northern end of thesbnak, and is about 4 miles long in a north-west direction and 2 miles broad; the least depth found of 3½ fathoms being confined to a small coral patch in lat. 12° 13′ S., long. 41° 21¾′ E.

Beyond the depth of 100 fathoms the soundings increase rapidly ; at 6 miles north-east of the shoalest part, 1,080 fathoms was found, and at 14 and 25 miles eastward of the shoal part 1,308 and 1,131 fathoms were obtained.

A regular tide was observed when at anchor on the bank, the flood setting E. S. E. about 4 hours, and the ebb W. N. W. about 7 hours, with about half an hour slack water ; the strength at springs was 2 knots ; the rise and fall approximately 12 feet. It is probable that at a little distance from the bank, and when out of the influence of the tidal streams that exist upon it, the currents vary in direction and velocity at different times of the year.

Fish in abundance were caught on the bank.

Having regard to the nature of this examination as detailed by Commander Pullen, it is considered that the several shoal soundings hitherto reported on or near St. Lazarus bank fall within the area assigned to it by H. M. S. Stork.

Regarding Baragna Flats—Gulf of Martaban.

COMMANDER ALFRED CARPENTER, R.N., in charge Marine Survey of India, has given notice that the I. M. Steamer Enterprise having carefully examined the southern edge of these flats found that the soundings shown on the present Admiralty Chart had not altered.

Navigators should bear in mind that high water full and change occurs at about 10*h*. 30*m*. west of the Krishna Shoal, and that the set of the stream will therefore differ very considerably from any calculation based on high or low water at Elephant Point, Rangoon.

Approaching Amherst, vessels will find a swatch of about 14 fathoms with 11 fathoms on either side of it lying near the western limit of Double Island light.

Soundings have altered very much in Lat. 15° N. and Long. 96° 50′ E., the twenty fathom line now stretching out to that position. Indications of this change will be seen on Admiralty Chart 823, south of the parallel of 15 degrees.

Regarding Sacramento Shoal—Godavari Coast.

THE following information has been received from Commander Carpenter, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India:—

Sacramento Shoal.—Lying in Lat. 16° 35′ 30″N., Long 82° 19′E, is a sand bank which nearly dries. From it, Hope Island light-house bears North distant 13½ miles.

Its outer edge is two miles from the line of coast.

The ten fathom line runs two miles outside the bank.

There are always breakers on it except at its very extreme.

An arm of the Godavari River has formed two spits, the southern of which is called the Sacramento Shoal. There is excellent anchorage of four fathoms under the lee of the northern spit. Between the spits there is a channel into the river having nine feet on the bar at low water; and deep water inside right up to the Godavari.

The only clearing mark by day is Thirthalmundi village, which stands on a mound with an obelisk among the huts bearing N. by W. which leads one mile outside the shoal.

By night, Hope Island light visible on a clear night from a few ratlines up the rigging, bearing N. by W. leads two miles outside the shoal.

Thirthalmundi village, eight miles south of Hope Island light, is marked on Admiralty Chart 71A.

Distances estimated by eye are very deceptive on this coast.

Bearings are Magnetic.

ORISSA COAST.

Navigators cautioned when passing the localities near the Dévi River mouth and entrance into Chilka Lake.

THE following information has been received from Commander Carpenter, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India:—

By a recent survey of the coast between the Mahanaddi river and Gopalpur, it was found that the coast was quite free from submerged dangers. A small bank projects three-quarters of a mile seaward from the Dévi river mouth, and a similar one projects half a mile seaward from the entrance into Chilka lake.

Vessels should not shoal to less than 9 fathoms when passing these localities.

Otherwise the coast is clear, but the ten-fathom line frequently runs within three-quarters of a mile of the breakers on the shore.

There is a channel of 8 feet at low water into the Dévi river.

The northern mouth of the Mahanaddi appears to have closed, and the breakers off the southern mouth are now extending seaward.

Between Dévi river and Gopalpur the 20-fathom line varies from 5 to 13 miles off shore, and the 100-fathom line maintains a fairly uniform distance off shore of 18 miles.

Distances judged by eye are very deceptive on this coast.

Bearings are magnetic.

Cape Capricorn—Subsidiary light on eastern slope, and discontinuance of light on north-west slope.

The following Notice to Mariners, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 97 of 1889), is republished :—

The Government of Queensland has given notice, dated 23rd January 1889, that a subsidiary fixed white light, for leading clear of Rocky islet, is now exhibited at an elevation of 240 feet above high water, and bearing S. 63° E., distant 77 yards from the principal light-house on Cape Capricorn, south side of Keppel Bay :—

The light, the arrangement of which is somewhat similar to that of the subsidiary light on Bustard head, No. 751 in Light List, is obscured by a screen through a sector of 29°, or from the bearing of N.W. by W. ½ W. to N.N.W. ¾ W, to the distance of one mile seaward of Rocky islet between these two bearings, but is otherwise visible from the bearing of W. by N. to near the eastern coast of Curtis island. The north-eastern edge of the obscured sector leads 5 cables seaward of Rocky islet, and the south-western edge of it leads 3 cables inshore of that danger.

NOTE.—Vessels passing seaward of the obscured part of the sector will not be in less than 13 fathoms while abreast the islet. Approaching from the eastward, the principal light on Cape Capricorn should not be opened southward of the subsidiary light, as the lights in line lead very close to the line of obscuration. To pass inshore of Rocky islet, the subsidiary light must be kept northward of the bearing N.N.W. ¾ W.

Also, that the small subsidiary light on the north-west slope of Cape Capricorn is discontinued.

(2). Port Denison, south entrance—Additional leading lights.

Also, dated 30th January 1889, that two additional leading lights are now exhibited on the southern side of South entrance to port Denison, and which kept in line lead clear of the reef extending south-eastward of Stone island :—

The lights are fixed white lights, 500 yards apart, and bearing N.E. by E. and S.W. by W. from each other. The eastern light bears S. 83° E. from Mount Bramston, distant 700 yards, and is elevated about 25 feet above high water. The western light is elevated 60 feet above high water.

Approximate position, lat. 20° 4′ S., long. 148° 15¾′ E.

NOTE.—Vessels after rounding Cape Gloucester should steer S. W. ½ W. until the abovementioned leading lights are brought in line bearing S. W. by W., and keep them so till the leading lights westward of the town of Bowen are in line bearing N.W. ¾ W. The inner leading lights should then be kept in line until the anchorage is reached, or the sector of red light on North head is opened out on a N N.E. bearing.

PRIVATE FISHERIES BILL.

The HON'BLE SIR CHARLES PAUL presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bill for the protection of the right of fishing in private waters, and moved that the report be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE SIR CHARLES PAUL also moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE SIR CHARLES PAUL also moved that in line 17 of section 3, after the word 'imprisonment' the words 'which may be simple or rigorous' be inserted. He said:—"I find that the Act for shortening the language of Acts of the Bengal Council does not, as the analogous Act of the Viceroy's Council does, define the word 'imprisonment;' it is therefore necessary to add the words 'simple or rigorous' after 'imprisonment.'"

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE SIR CHARLES PAUL also moved that in clauses 1 and 2 of section 4, for the words 'obstruction or' the word 'fixed' be substituted. He said:—"As the section stands it is not very grammatical; the amendment would include everything that is required."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE DR. RASH BEHARY GHOSE moved that for clause (2) of section 3, the following proviso be substituted:—'Provided that nothing herein contained shall apply to acts done by any person in the exercise of a boná fide claim of right, or shall prevent any person from angling with a rod and line, or with a line only, in any portion of a navigable river.'

He said:—"The amendment which stands in my name consists of two parts. The second part, which makes a concession in favour of the disciples of Isaac Walton, comes before the Council with the recommendation of the Select Committee in favour of it. I need not, therefore, say anything as regards this part of the amendment, except that, as we all know, the gentle art is practised more frequently for sport than for gain, and that at any rate by confining the right to navigable rivers we shall be well within the maxim de minimis non curat lex. As regards that part of the amendment which says that 'nothing contained in the Act shall apply to acts done in the boná fide exercise of a claim of right,' it will be enough to remind hon'ble members that it only formulates a well-known maxim—I had almost said axiom—in Criminal Jurisprudence: 'There can be no offence, no crime, unless there is a guilty mind.' I will only refer to a well-known text-book on this subject—Maxwell on the construction of Statutes—in which the result of the authorities is thus stated:—'Mens rea, or a guilty mind is, with few exceptions, an essential element in 'constituting a breach of the criminal law; a statute, however comprehensive 'and unqualified it be in its language, is usually understood as silently requir-'ing that this element should be imported into it, unless a contrary intention be 'expressed.' It may be said—indeed it has actually been said—that the effect of introducing this proviso will be to render the whole law a dead-letter, which would therefore only cumber the Statute Book, without ever having any practical operation. Now those who raise this objection seem to forget that a boná fide claim of right is not the same thing as a mere pretence set up simply for the purpose of avoiding the jurisdiction of the Magistrate. A boná fide claim must rest on fairly reasonable grounds; and although a man may not, if I may use the expression, have, in respect of a particular act, a guilty conscience, and therefore in one sense may be said not to have acted dishonestly, yet he would not succeed on a plea of boná fide claim of right, unless he could show that the conclusion at which he had arrived was based on reasonable grounds. Then, again, it seems to me that those who take exception to this amendment forget that there is substantially the same limitation in the definition of theft in the Indian Penal Code; and yet I think it will be allowed by everybody that the Indian Penal Code has not been a dead-letter. It is worthy of notice that those who are opposed to the amendment seem to think, or certainly at one time thought, that acts made punishable under this Bill were punishable under the Indian Penal Code. But it is clear that a person who acted in the exercise of a boná fide claim of right could not have been convicted under the Penal Code; and certainly the owners of private fisheries in public rivers are not entitled to a larger measure of protection than the owner of a fishery in a tank or other enclosed piece of water. There may possibly be a distinction between fish confined in a tank and fish in a river, but the distinction, if there is one, is certainly not in favour of a larger measure of protection being given to the owners of fisheries in rivers, or in waters where the fish are neither reared nor preserved by the owners of the fisheries. Difficult questions of law are, moreover, sure to arise. I may here refer to an instance which came a few years ago within my experience. An action was brought by a well-known landowner in the district of Rungpur to restrain certain tenants of his from fishing in a bheel: the tenants set up an immemorial custom under which they and their forefathers before them for several generations had been in the habit of fishing in the lake on a particular day in the year. The case was heard by a Subordinate Judge of considerable experience, and he came to the conclusion that the tenants were entitled to exercise the right set up by them. The action was heard in appeal by a District Judge, also of considerable experience, and he too came to the same conclusion. In appeal, however, to the High Court both these judgments were set aside on the ground that the right set up by the tenants was not recognised by the English law, and that there was no reason why the Courts in this country should refuse to follow the English law on the point. Now, if the amendment I propose is not carried, the result will be this. These men, who thought they were not doing anything wrong in exercising the right of fishing, and who might well be pardoned for thinking so, seeing that the Subordinate Judge and the District Judge were also of that opinion, would be punishable as criminals. I submit that it ought not to be so: and that, as soon as the Magistrate is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for the claim set up, he ought to hold his hands and leave the matter to be decided by the ordinary civil tribunals. Another objection has been suggested to the amendment which I will notice, and that is this—that it is not necessary to have an amendment of this kind, because no Criminal Court will punish a man who made out a bonâ fide claim of right. I will only say in answer to this objection that it only shows that the amendment, although sound in principle, is superfluous and unnecessary. But I think that, although no doubt in olden times the Judges used to take a great deal of liberty with Acts of Parliament, when the art of draftsmanship was in a rudimentary state, it would now be a very strong thing for a Judge or Magistrate to say that, although an Act says that a man who without being legally entitled to fish in certain waters, fished in them, is liable to punishment, he must not be punished because we must not impute to the Legislature an intention to punish bonâ fide mistakes. I think that, when we have a written law, the whole of the law ought to be contained in the Statute, and that no one should be allowed to set at naught the intention of the Legislature by referring to some unwritten rule of construction drawn from books of reports extending, at least in England, over more than five hundred years, not to say anything of the perplexity occasionally caused by conflicting decisions. With these observations I move the amendment which stands in my name."

The HON'BLE MR. ALLEN said:—"It appears to me that this question is simply one of practical bearing. The Bill is a Bill for the protection of the right of fishing in private waters, and I suppose the hon'ble member will not pretend that his amendment is likely to assist in the protecting private rights of fishery. It is rather in derogation of the general objects of the Act itself. It comes in at the tail of section 3 of the Bill, the first clause of which says—'Any person who fishes in any private waters, not having a right to fish therein shall be guilty of an offence'; and then comes the amendment, which says that 'nothing herein contained shall apply to acts done by any person in the exercise of a bonâ fide claim of right.' It seems to me that the amendment takes away very materially from the effect of the first clause, which protects rights of fisheries in private waters, by making it a criminal act to fish without a right; but the hon'ble member says that it is to be no offence if only you put forward what you imagine to be a bonâ fide claim of right. There is no word which is probably used more often mala fide than that expression bonâ fide. It generally represents the view an individual takes of what is for his own interest. As a protection for those who have bonâ fide rights, I think the amendment is perfectly unnecessary. It is a principle underlying all criminal jurisprudence that, where there is a bonâ fide claim of right, the jurisdiction of the Criminal Courts is ousted. But the introduction of this amendment into the Bill is likely to have, not a bonâ fide effect, but on the contrary is likely to afford additional excuses for Magistrates to throw off their own hands, work which must form an exceedingly disagreeable duty. Nothing can be more troublesome than these questions of criminal trespass, and such like, where the contending parties are disputing about interests in land or water. It is not the case that Magistrates are eager to grasp at jurisdiction improperly. As the result of my experience, I should say Magistrates are only too ready to refer parties on any possible pretence to the Civil Court. The real object of this Bill is to provide a speedy and inexpensive mode of obtaining redress against a class of people against whom civil suits are practically valueless. Those who fish without possessing a right are not people of substance—zemindars or others: on the contrary, they are nocturnal wanderers, machwars, and the like, who for the most part make their livelihood by such forms of trespass, and it is necessary that there should be a speedy means of redress, and what is the redress given? It is a fine of Rs. 50—call it, not a fine but damages; and what is there to object to? The Magistrate is just as likely to do justice in such cases as a Munsif, and more so, because he is not trammelled by a Code containing over six hundred sections to guide his procedure. Therefore it appears to me that, as a protection of bonâ fide rights, this amendment is not necessary. Claims of right are already recognised, but the introduction of this amendment may have the effect of neutralising the whole Act."

The HON'BLE MR. NOLAN said:—"Mr. President, the hon'ble member who moved this amendment did so in a speech so full and lucid that it is quite unnecessary that I should attempt to give him the support which, as the only person who acted with him on the Select Committee, I feel bound to afford, otherwise than by removing any misapprehension as to the facts of the case which may have been created by the last speaker. As that speaker remarked, this is a practical question, and in dealing with such questions it is above all things desirable that we should clearly understand the facts. The hon'ble member has informed us that the persons who will be prosecuted under this Bill are nocturnal wanderers, who make a livelihood by poaching on fisheries belonging to others; and if this were a correct statement, little importance would attach to the amendment. It will not, as the hon'ble member seems to suppose, enable such wanderers to escape the consequences of their trespass, for under it they will be required, not merely to set up a colourable title, such as the jealousy of the law has made a sufficient defence in England, but to establish to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that they have a bonâ fide claim to the fishery, the burden of proof will rest on their shoulders, and, poor poachers as they are, they will be altogether unable to make out a right to the satisfaction of a Court. In regard to them, if any such men there be, the amendment can do neither harm nor good; to their circumstances it is simply irrelevant. But the papers showing the origin of the Bill contain no reference to such wanderers, and the decided cases regard a class of persons altogether different. The whole bearing of the Bill, and the importance attributed to this amendment, will be misunderstood unless we turn our attention from casual trespasses to concentrate it on the disputes which everywhere exist as to the rights of fishery exercised in Bengal. In illustration of these rights I may refer to the great Chandpore Julhan in Tipperah, as to which Government has recorded a Resolution:—

'The Sudder Court, in a decision of September 1859, pronounced that the best right made out to this julkar (which is there described as not 'above the ebbing and flowing of the tide,' and as 'an arm of the sea,') was that of the public. In the face of this decision it is impossible for the Government to make over the fishery to any individuals to the exclusion of the public generally. The Government is now bound to do all in its power to throw open the fishery as a common right to the public, and to take care, as the guardian of the public interests, that it is not monopolised by any single individual or party.'

"This is no isolated instance of the existence of public rights in important fisheries, over which individuals desire to establish a monopoly. The most valuable fisheries in Bengal are those in tidal rivers, and it has always been the policy of Government to keep these open, free of any rent or revenue, for the common use of all. Claims to a monopoly have, indeed, been advanced from time to time by the owners of neighbouring estates, but these are generally regarded as invalid, and are not enforced in practice. Leaving the great rivers, to consider the state of things on our principal lakes, I find that, in the opinion of the local officers, no monopoly of fishing rights has ever been granted in the well-known Chilka inland water, the largest and most valuable of the province. In the open waters of that lake the fishing is in practice free, while in the creeks and inlets exclusive rights are claimed, but disputed, so that there has been much friction, and no little litigation. As to the minor pools, I will read an extract from a letter which I received yesterday from a manager in charge, on behalf of the Court of Wards, of the largest estate in Bengal, a public servant of unrivalled experience:—

'Judging from my knowledge gathered from an intimate acquaintance with the districts of Purneah, Dinagepur, Maldah, Bhagulpur and Rajshahye, I can say that a very well-defined customary right to fish in jheels and other pieces of private waters does exist which every villager is cognisant of, and has exercised hitherto without let or hindrance year by year. The custom I allude to is that, which permits any villager residing within the mouzah in which a jheel may be situate to fish in that particular jheel between the date of the Holi festival and the date when the first flow of new water from the river enters the jheel. This right, whether it be one enforceable by the law or not, is probably older than the times in which the zemindar was created and became the possessor of the land; and might in point of antiquity and uninterrupted user be fitly compared with the rights of common, and similar privileges, preserved by law to the poorer inhabitants of a parish in England.'

"But the evidence most appropriate to the present occasion is that afforded by the abstract of decided cases laid before this Council when the Bill was introduced. In the first of these cases the prosecutor could not prove that he had proprietory rights; the second regarded what is described as a disputed fishery; to the third, which runs as follows, I would draw your special attention:—

'A and B asserted their prescriptive right to fish in a lake free of rent, and C had failed to establish the relationship of landlord and tenant in a suit brought by him under Act X of 1859 to get rent from them.

'Glover J. held that to convict A and others under section 441 of the Penal Code, it must be shown that they entered upon property in the possession of C with intent to commit an offence. The element of intention was wanting. A and others asserted, and had all along asserted, a prescriptive right to fish in the lake without the payment of rent. Considering that they had vindicated their claims and had a right to fish as they had done before, and that they were acting bonâ fide, and not exceeding their supposed privileges, C's notice, warning them not to fish, did not change the state of affairs so far as section 441 was concerned, and that therefore there could be no conviction for criminal trespass.'

"I might cite other cases from the abstract, but it is enough to add that none of them contain any reference to trespass by mere wanderers, and that, taken as a whole, they establish with perfect clearness the fact that this Bill owes its origin to prosecutions in many of which the alleged proprietor of the fishery could show no right to the monopoly he claimed, and the alleged thief or trespasser was an honest fishermen plying his trade openly, and in good faith, in waters where he had, or believed that he had, a legal title to fish.

"It is with reference to these facts that the amendment has been framed, for the protection of fishermen exercising genuine rights, against persons attempting to establish a monopoly without a title, or on a doubtful title. And, the circumstances once understood, I am in a position to give an assured reply to the assertion of the hon'ble member on my right (Mr. Allen) that the adoption of the present proposal is not consistent with the principle of a Bill for the protection of rights in fisheries. On the contrary, the amendment is necessary if such rights, in their most useful form, that is to say, when appertaining to the actual fishermen, are to be protected from usurpation and encroachment. It is by no means fair to such men that they should be compelled to defend their ancient privileges from the dock, before courts accustomed to deal only with alleged criminals. I cannot for a moment believe that this Council will subscribe to the opinion of the hon'ble member, that such Magistrates will decide better as to complicated questions as to the existence of a monopoly in open waters, or of easements over private waters because exempted from the operation of the Civil Procedure Code, which has been framed in all its details so as to provide adequate safeguards for the due examination of all causes.

"The hon'ble member states it, as a general principle of all law, that a person acting bonâ fide cannot be subject to penal consequences; and he considers that the magisterial courts of this province are inclined to push this doctrine to extremes. These statements are relevant only if we are prepared to say that the principle in question is so universally accepted that any special provision in penal laws to make it clear that the acts for which they provide punishment must be committed wilfully, maliciously, or dishonestly, is unnecessary and superfluous. Now that, Sir, is a view opposed to all approved practice in drafting laws, whether for England or for India. For instance, the English statute on this subject limits the offence to those who fish unlawfully and wilfully; the Indian law now applicable to stealing fish from tanks provides that the act must be committed dishonestly, and proceeds to explain that this means, with the intention of causing wrongful loss or wrongful gain. Are we to override precedent by providing a punishment for the mere deed, without reference to the intention, without any statutory safeguard for the protection of those who act in good faith? It is true that if we do so the highest court of the province may eventually supply the deficiency, reading the general principles which should have guided us in legislation into the curt provision of the Bill as it stands, that 'any person who fishes in any private water not having a right to fish therein shall be guilty of an offence.' But we would abandon our proper functions were we to trust the exemption of the innocent from penalties of our own creation to such a contingency. It is our plain duty in this matter to say what we mean, and if we desire that the amendment shall in fact be operative, to pass it as part of the law. That all Magistrates, of all classes, are unduly disposed to acquit persons accused of such offences is a proposition startling from its novelty. I will ask the Council to decide it, not on my experience, or on that of the hon'ble member, but on the evidence of the cases in the summary before them, which is little more than the account of a series of improper convictions.

"In conclusion, I must express a hope that the hon'ble and learned member in charge of this Bill (with which my connection is that only of a member of this Council) will be able to accept the amendment, which is identical with a recommendation which he himself made to Government at an early stage in the preparation of this measure. The law passed will then be useful, as affording protection to real proprietors against wilful trespassers, without giving to those desirous of establishing a monopoly of the right of fishing in public waters a weapon for attack on industrious fishermen exercising their rights, according to law and immemorial custom."

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON said:—"I must say I entirely concur with the learned Legal Remembrancer that this amendment will go very far, if not entirely, to neutralise the effect of the law, and that the arguments which were chiefly used in support of it, if carefully analysed, are more or less wide of the mark. The very first argument which the hon'ble member opposite (Mr. Nolan) adduced showed that, in the large rivers of Bengal, there was a right of fishing; but it did not need a provision of this kind to give the fullest possible security to those who chose to exercise it. 'Private fishery' is defined in the Bill to mean private waters in which any person has an exclusive right of fishery, and in which fish are not confined; but have means of ingress or egress. Consequently, if there is any possible question whether there is a right of fishing, it is perfectly plain that the prosecution must prove completely that there is an exclusive right of fishery. So far as such claims exist, they will have the amplest means of asserting themselves. Then as regards the injustice of criminally punishing a person who acts bonâ fide, it can hardly be said that under this Bill a man will be punished criminally in any real sense of the word. The object is only to give fair protection to rights which exist. The person punished is not really in danger of being sent to jail, merely because under a bonâ fide error he is infringing another man's right. If a person does make a mistake of that kind, possibly it might seem a very dangerous doctrine, but it seemed to the speaker that no great moral wrong would be done if he were fined a rupee for his mistake. The last and most important point is this:—It is said that the Magistrates look on this plea of bonâ fides with very great suspicion. That was not his experience, and a case which occurred in Calcutta would go far to illustrate this. No one in Calcutta is authorised to carry on a market without a license, except in the case of the older markets which require only to be registered. The owner of a market having a quarrel with a neighbour, thought he would annoy his friend by removing the fish stalls in his market, and placing them directly to the south of his friend's house, and giving him the benefit of all the stench from the fish; and he did so. On this the person thus injured brought the matter before the Commissioners, and on looking up the market license it was clearly seen that the fish stalls were to be in another place; so the license was withheld until the fish stalls were brought back to the place where they were originally intended to be. The owner of the market refused to remove the fish stalls, and the first time the municipality prosecuted for holding a market without a license, the defender got off on the plea that he had his municipal license-tax. As the offence continued, the Commissioners again prosecuted, drawing attention to the legal objection which they knew was invalid, and asked for a summons, so as to have the point of law determined. The summons was granted by the Stipendiary Magistrate, who overruled the objection, and the hearing was again before the Honorary Magistrates. The case ran a marvellous course, and though the simplest possible, it was postponed from week to week. At last, in a moment of inspiration, it struck the market-owner's pleader to urge that his client had throughout acted bonâ fide—a plea which was instantly accepted, and the case dismissed."

The HON'BLE MR. MOORE said—"I believe I am the only person present who signed the original memorial to your Honour, which is the origin of the production of this Bill. I am not personally interested in the question, but acted on behalf of a gentleman who is largely interested in julkur rights, and I therefore wish generally to express my view without entering into special arguments. The memorialists prayed for legislation to make criminal this offence against private rights, which the existing law failed to do. This Bill was drawn, and it was a sound and healthy one as originally submitted to us. But the creators of it have since apparently got frightened at what their healthy young infant may propagate, and now deliberately propose to submit it to a process of emasculation. Now, I object to this altogether. I cannot follow the mover of the amendment in his sentimental pleas not to prosecute certain offenders criminally, and it seems to me he makes them a direct invitation to weave pretty little romances to condone their offences. I wish to preserve for this Bill its pristine vigour, and I therefore intend to vote against the amendment, and I sincerely hope it will be lost."

The HON'BLE SIR CHARLES PAUL said—"I think there is some misconception as to the effect of this section. The last speaker seemed to think that the introduction of this section would altogether emasculate the Bill. By that I understand him to mean that in every case there will be a plea of bonâ fide claim set up, and that the plea is sure to succeed. If that should be the result of the amendment, we should stultify ourselves, if we accepted it. But it is quite obvious that that cannot be the case. In the case of the marauders referred to by the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, they would not have the effrontery to come before the Court with a bonâ fide claim of right. The question, however, is not altogether free from difficulty. The section says—'Any person who fishes in any private waters, not having a right to fish therein.' That requires the Magistrate to try and punish as an offence what is essentially a civil matter. That being so, if the Magistrate were capable by learning and experience to decide a difficult question of right, and his decision when appealed against and upheld by the High Court resulted in finality, I should be free to admit that the Bill should be allowed to stand without amendment. But unfortunately there can be no such finality, because either party will be able to re-agitate the same matter in the Civil Court. The Magistrate might thus try a case, and his decision might be confirmed in appeal, and yet the whole matter might be taken up to the Civil Court. Therefore when a case is brought which clearly shows that a man has a right which he may fairly put forward in a civil suit, it seems necessary and just that it should not proceed further in a Magistrate's Court. In order to make my observations clear, I shall give an illustration to show that there may be cases the Magistrate should not try. Suppose in a navigable river X has a right to fish from point A to point B, and Y has a right to fish from B to C, and the question arises from where the line from B is to be drawn. X says it should be drawn from a certain point; Y says it should be drawn from a certain other point; and thus a boundary dispute arises. The Magistrate would then have to try a boundary dispute. It would not, in my opinion, be proper for the Magistrate to have to try a boundary dispute of that sort, and it would be unjust to the man who produces fifty witnesses to say that he has always regarded the particular place as within his boundary, that he should be punished by the Magistrate for fishing within that boundary. It cannot be an offence to do on one particular day what a man has done for twenty-five years in the bonâ fide belief that he had the right to do so. I think the arguments in favour of the amendment are so strong, and have been so lucidly and ably stated by the hon'ble mover of the amendment, that anything I might say might rather detract from their force than add to them. I therefore support the amendment."

The HON'BLE DR. RASH BEHARY GHOSE said in reply:—"It was said by the learned member who spoke first in opposition to my amendment that this was a Bill for the protection of private fisheries, and an amendment like this cannot therefore have any place in the present Bill. Now, the Indian Penal Code, I take it, is a Code enacted for the protection, amongst other things, of rights of private property. That Code says that if you take property from another it is theft; but it also says that it is not theft if you take it bonâ fide in the honest belief that you are entitled to it. Then it was said that the offence dealt with by this Bill may be called a crime; but what is the penalty?—only a paltry fine of Rs. 50. That may be a paltry amount to some of us: but we have been told that the people against whom the Bill is directed are poor, and that it will be impossible to recover any damages from them. That may be their misfortune: but I think a fine of Rs. 50 on a poor man means imprisonment in default of payment of the fine. I take it therefore that the punishment is a substantial punishment. Then it is said—Oh! but everybody will plead bonâ fides. It is not, however, what everybody may choose to plead, or even what everybody believes, that will decide the fate of the prosecution. The fate of the prosecution will be determined by the judgment of the Magistrate on the question whether there are, or there are not, reasonable grounds for the claim which has been set up; and I take it that in passing a law like this, and arming the Magistrate with authority to punish the offender under this Act, we ought to proceed on the assumption that the gentlemen who will be called upon to exercise such authority are fairly competent for the discharge of their duties. Then the last argument of the hon'ble member seems to me altogether to destroy the force of what he had previously said. He said the administration of criminal justice proceeds upon the assumption that a man is not a criminal if he acted in good faith, or in the belief that he was entitled to do what he is charged with having unlawfully done. If that is so, where is the harm of putting in this clause in the statute itself? One may admire codification with its beautiful simplicity; one may also admire case-law with its remarkable elasticity, but I do submit that one cannot feel much admiration for a hybrid amalgamation of code law and case law where you have to find out the law, not from the statute itself, but partly from the statute and partly from the reported and unreported utterances of English and Indian Judges. That is a principle which I do submit is certainly not desirable. Then, again, something was said by the other hon'ble members who spoke—at least by one hon'ble member, so far as I remember—as to my objection being purely of a sentimental character. I submit that it is not so: and even if it were, the hon'ble member seems to forget that the administration of the criminal law is founded on the rules of morality, and ought not to be in habitual conflict with the general moral sentiments of the people. It has been said that you cannot make the squire and the labourer take the same view of the offence of poaching: and I think there may very well be a distinction between fish confined in a pond and fish enjoying their natural liberty in navigable rivers—at least in minds not trained to the appreciation of subtle or hidden analogies. We all know what Sydney Smith said of the difference between poultry and partridges: the difference certainly is not less marked here. I admit there is a right of property in unconfined fish: the Bill acknowledges it and protects it; but I submit it would be going too far if you were to punish those who, as one hon'ble member stated to the Council, had been in the habit of enjoying customary rights for generations, in happy ignorance of Gateward's case; the practical result, as those who have any experience of Indian litigants and their ways are well aware, would be simply to deter these people from exercising their ancient rights. Let it be fought out in the proper court, if it has to be fought out at all, namely, the civil court, but the terrors of the criminal law must not be called in aid to deter these people, humble and poor, and generally without the means of defending themselves properly, from exercising their rights until the civil court shall have pronounced its decision."

The Motion being put, the Council divided:—

Ayes 6.	Noes 5.
The Hon'ble Dr. Rash Behary Ghose.	The Hon'ble Raja Rameshwar Singh, Bahadur.
The Hon'ble Shahzada Mahommed Furrokh Shah.	The Hon'ble C. H. Moore.
The Hon'ble Dr. Mahendra Lal Sircar.	The Hon'ble Sir Alfred Croft.
The Hon'ble P. Nolan.	The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison.
The Hon'ble Sir Charles Paul.	The Hon'ble T. T. Allen.
His Honour the President.

So the Motion was carried.

MUHAMMADAN BURIAL BOARD'S BILL.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the appointment of a Muhammadan Burial Board in Calcutta, and moved that the report be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill.

The HON'BLE MR. ALLEN said—" Hon'ble members will be aware that I declined to sign this report, and the ground on which I did so was purely one of order. It appeared to me that the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill had induced the Committee to violate the standing rules which regulate the conduct of business in this Council, and it would be highly improper to allow such violation to pass unnoticed. The first rule on the subject of legislation is, that no Bill can be brought into Council without the leave of the Council asked on motion and obtained, and after the leave is obtained, and at the time of introducing it, the member in charge of the Bill is to submit a full statement of the objects and reasons of the Bill. Subsequently the Bill, so accompanied, is made over to the Select Committee to report, and one rule says that it shall be the duty of the Committee to revise the Bill, clause by clause, and to recommend any amendments therein that may to them seem advisable. There is no authority given to the Select Committee to go beyond the purport of the Bill which the Council has submitted to it for report, and it is only so far as the Bill that has been submitted to the Committee goes that the Committee are justified in making changes. To add to the Bill substantially, to introduce objects which are not covered by the Bill as introduced to the Council and as submitted to the Committee for report, is, I contend, entirely beyond the functions of the Select Committee. Now, applying this principle to the present case, the Bill which the hon'ble member applied for leave to introduce into the Council was simply a Bill to provide a Muhammadan Burial Board for Calcutta. That was the Bill which was made over to the Select Committee for report, and it was only in respect of that Bill, and within the scope of that Bill, that the Committee had any functions whatever. But the hon'ble member in charge induced the Committee to make a substantial addition to the Muhammadan Burial Board. He has induced the Committee to add a section to the Bill which calls into existence a second Board, of which no mention was made when he asked leave to introduce the Bill, or in the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanied the Bill. This new Board is not the fag end of the Muhammadan Board after the Muhammadan members have withdrawn, in which case it might have been held covered by the Bill as introduced, but is to have a legislative existence independent altogether of the previous part of the Bill. It is to exist under the terms of the last section which has been added to the Bill. This Burial Board has no name, and the wording has been most ingeniously arranged, so as to conceal the significance of the addition to a large extent, so that one might suppose that it was a sort of emanation from the Bill as it was referred to the Select Committee. But it is in fact an entirely new Board which the Lieutenant Governor may charge with functions outside those of the Muhammadan Burial Board. This second Board is to have quite as independent a legal existence as the Muhammadan Burial Board. No name has been given to it, but I suppose it ought to be called the Baishnaba Burial Board, because those are for the most part the Hindus who would be affected by it. I submit that the Select Committee had no authority to create a Baishnaba Burial Board; they got no authority from the Council to do so, and there has been no proper opportunity for those who are interested in the measure to consider it. But as to the substance of the addition to the Bill I don't speak at present. I simply contend that the Committee are not at liberty to add in any way substantially to the purport of the Bill committed to them. These are the reasons which have led me to decline to sign the report of the Select Committee, and it is for the Council to consider whether it will consent to have its rules of business set at naught by any member who may be in charge of a Bill, or whether it will insist that the hon'ble member shall master his facts and fix in his mind beforehand the whole scope and objects of the Bill before he comes to this Council for leave to introduce it, and not allow deficiency in scope to be patched up in the Select Committee. I submit that when rules for the conduct of business have been passed a rigid adherence to those rules should be observed. I think this is a case in which we should be careful to prevent the introduction of the thin edge of the wedge, although I must say that this is a case in which the hon'ble member has not attempted so much to introduce the thin edge as the broad edge."

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said:—"It may help matters, and at all events influence the course of the debate, if I put before you one or two considerations which occur to me. I don't think it necessary at the present stage to go into the substantive question. We have heard the brilliant attack which the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer has made on the mover of this Bill, and we cannot help recognising his eagerness to uphold to the strictest letter, the rules of the Council. But I am bound to add that he has not ended with any substantive motion; he has not proposed as an amendment that we should not proceed with the Bill, and has not given any assistance whatever towards the decision of the question, what we shall do next. Suppose the hon'ble member's view is correct, that the Committee has behaved very improperly, there were no pains and penalties provided for them, and the Council, so far as he is concerned, will simply be at a dead lock. Therefore what I have to say is, that in discussing the motion that the report of the Select Committee be considered, I shall be much obliged if those members of the Council who take the same view as the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer of the impropriety of the Committee's conduct will indicate the course with reference to the progress of the Bill which they wish to see adopted."

The HON'BLE DR. RASH BEHARI GHOSE said—"I find that rule 5 provides that when the report of the Select Committee is taken into consideration it may be moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Committee.

"The course therefore for the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill will be to move that clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee, and if that motion is made and not affirmed, then the clauses must be considered for settlement as they stood when the Bill was read in Council."

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON said:—"The motion before the meeting was that the report of the Select Committee be taken into consideration. Until that was affirmed he could not go on with the next motion. He had nothing further to say except this, that the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer was put upon the Select Committee in order that they might have the benefit of his advice, and he thought that instead of absenting himself from the last Committee meeting, he might have remained and pointed the objections he had now taken.

Instead of doing so, he muttered something about breaking the rules and left the room. Substantially the Committee had made no change at all; substantially the Bill provides a machinery for the better management of these public Muhammadan cemeteries in which at present there were no means of looking after interments. Portions of these Muhammadan cemeteries, in some cases by express arrangement in the most formal manner possible, in other cases by custom, were set apart for Hindus. It was understood when bringing in the Bill that a Muhammadan Burial Board would have looked after all these interments, and there was no reason to apprehend that they would have any objection, nor that the Vaishnavs, who bury their dead in these cemeteries, would put forward any objection. But the Committee were informed on very good authority, by one of their own colleagues, that a Muhammadan Burial Board would object to be charged with that duty, and we were therefore placed in a difficulty. There were certain pieces of ground quite as insanitary as those for the burial of Muhammadans which were set apart for Vaishnavs and other castes, and a Muhammadan Burial Board refusing to take charge of them. What was to be done? Was the difficulty to be shirked? The Committee thought it best to separate these pieces of ground from the Schedule, and let the official members of the Board take charge of them. Whether in so doing they had technically exceeded their power or not, it would be difficult to show any better or simpler escape from the dilemma."

The HON'BLE DR. MAHENDRA LAL SIRCAR said:—"The Bill, it must be admitted, as it has been amended by the Select Committee, is a different Bill from that which had been originally introduced, and on that ground the Hon'ble the Legal Remembrancer objected to it. I thought at the time that a change in the title of the Bill would meet his objection, and accordingly a change in the title has been made by the Committee. I now beg to submit that a change in the short title of the Act might satisfy the hon'ble member; I would, therefore, suggest that instead of calling it 'the Mahomedan Burial Boards Act,' it might be called 'The Non-Christian Burial Boards Act.'"

The HON'BLE MR. ALLEN said:—"May I, Sir, be allowed to offer an explanation. I have not been able to hear what he said for myself, but from my neighbour, the member on my left, I understand the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill has said that the Select Committee had fallen into the dilemma because I had not attended the meeting of the Committee. I wish to inform the Council that I was present at the meeting of the Committee which was formally called, and when I found the hon'ble member throwing out feelers in the direction he has subsequently worked, I distinctly pulled him up several times, pointing out that the Bill was a Bill for the appointment of a Muhammadan Burial Board and nothing more. After the last meeting of the Council, and without any formal notice, I was informed that the hon'ble member wished to take further measures in that direction, and I distinctly told the hon'ble member who has just spoken that the thing could not be done. The hon'ble member opposite, who specially represents the Muhammadans, was sitting next to the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill, and I pointed out to them both distinctly that the Bill was a Bill for a Muhammadan Burial Board and nothing more; that if he had contemplated the introduction of a section such as that which had been added to the Bill, he should have introduced a Bill for a Muhammadan and Chamar Burial Board. I repeatedly pressed it upon him that he could not proceed in that way, and I pointed out to him that the only way open to him was either to give up this additional and independent Burial Board or to introduce a supplementary Bill for the purpose: so that, in fact, there was no want of pressing my views on the Committee, and the blunder, if a blunder it be, which the hon'ble member has fallen into, is a blunder into which he has deliberately and consciously fallen."

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON said:—"His memory differed materially as regards the Hon'ble Legal Remembrancer's action. He, no doubt, showed great unwillingness to consider the amendments, but his objections, instead of being clear and definite, and referring to rule and chapter as to-day, were enigmatical and curt in the extreme. Why could he not stay five minutes and explain himself as he had done to-day? Certainly no specific rules of the Council were ever referred to by him in the Select Committee."

The HON'BLE SIR CHARLES PAUL said—"It strikes me that what has occurred is the result of that which has come to light in the course of investigation. I do not think that if the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill had anticipated the difficulty which has arisen, he would not have provided for it in the Bill which he introduced. But in the course of the discussions which took place in Committee it turned out that a Muhammadan Burial Board would not deal with that portion of a Muhammadan burial ground in which Hindus were buried, and that being so, there was a difficulty to be met, and the member in charge of the Bill dealt with that difficulty, and the outcome has been the insertion of clauses (sections 6 and 14) which, I must say, contain something beyond what was contained in the Bill as it was introduced, as not only are certain burial grounds excluded from the Schedule, but new matter introduced into the Bill. I think the Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison should now ask leave to introduce a Bill with those additional clauses, that the rules should be suspended, and that the Bill should then be read in Council and referred to the Select Committee at once and reported upon next week. It would involve a week's delay if the objection is persevered in."

The HON'BLE SIR ALFRED CROFT said:—"The Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanied this Bill referred, of course, to Muhammadan burial grounds chiefly, but the actual wording is—'cemeteries and burial grounds in the neighbourhood of Calcutta which have hitherto been under no adequate control or supervision.' This especially applies to the public cemeteries in which large numbers are annually interred. If, then, you raise the mere formal question whether the inclusion of a new section and an addition to the title are consistent with the directions given to the Select Committee, I doubt whether there is anything in the Statement of Objects and Reasons which is opposed to that view. But, passing beyond the question of form to the merits of the case, I would point out that the Select Committee had to make a report. In what terms was that report to be couched? It was elicited in the course of the discussions in Committee that for years past certain portions of the Muhammadan burial grounds had been used for the burial of other persons, and we were informed that a kind of prescriptive right had been established. It was impossible to ignore facts of this kind, and the Committee had to provide in the best way they could for the new circumstances they found to exist. They could only do so by a material alteration in the form of the Bill. But it also seems to me that the action of the Select Committee involves the Council in no difficulty. The case is fully met by clause (8) of Rule XV, which provides that, 'if after settlement of the clauses the Bill differs materially upon any important point from the form in which it was read in Council and published, it may be again published as amended, and reconsidered after such time as the Council may order.' As it appears to me that there has been a substantial change in the Bill, that, I think, should be the course which should be adopted."

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said:—"I take it that the error in form which has been pointed out is one which the Council are perfectly able to condone if they like, and that there is no kind of objection, if we think fit, to our taking the Bill into consideration in the form in which the Select Committee has submitted it. I quite agree that, as far as this is a new Bill, the Council would be wrong to pass it without taking advantage of clause 8 of the rule and putting it for another term before the public; but I do not think we are precluded from taking it into consideration as it stands."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON also moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON also moved that in the preamble of the Bill the words 'and for the interment of persons other than Christians or Muhammadans' be inserted after the words 'Muhammadan burial-grounds'; and that the short title of the Act be omitted from section 1.

The Motions were put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON said—" The next motion which stands in my name is to move the passing of the Bill, but after the discussion which has taken place, to do so may have the appearance of hasty legislation, and I ask leave to move instead that the Bill, as amended, be republished for not less than one month. The last clause of the Bill would admit of placing such burial grounds as the Chinese and Jewish burial grounds under this new Board, and although this is not definitely contemplated it is desirable to ascertain whether these bodies have any objection to this Bill. On that ground it is very desirable to republish the Bill, so that, if these bodies protest against any interference with their cemeteries, the wording of the section can be altered."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

PROPOSED CENTRAL ROAD FROM THE HOWRAH BRIDGE TO THE SEALDAH RAILWAY STATION.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON moved for leave to introduce a Bill to enable the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta to lend the Corporation of Calcutta a sum of money. He said:—" As the objects of this Bill have been sufficiently explained, and as the subject is one which has been much discussed in public, it is not necessary for me to say more than that this Bill is in aid of the construction of the new road from the Howrah Bridge to Sealdah, which the Municipal Commissioners have decided to construct."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON applied to the President to suspend the Rules for the conduct of business to enable him to move that the Bill be read in Council.

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT having suspended the rules, the HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON moved that the Bill be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to.
The Bill was read accordingly.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON also moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, the Hon'ble Mr. Moore, the Hon'ble Dr. Rash Behari Ghose, and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT OF COUNCIL.

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said:—" The only Bill we have ready to be passed now is the Private Fisheries Bill, which, if it were not for the peculiar wording of our rules, might well be passed to-day. The rule to which I refer does not exist in the Legislative Council of the Viceroy, and I think it is peculiar to this Council. It is this, that any amendment made in the wording of a Bill, however slight it may be, prevents the Council from passing the Bill on the same day. Practically in this Bill we have done all that is necessary, and we are ready to pass it; but we must defer its passing to another meeting. I understand that the Hon'ble and learned Advocate-General will not be here on Saturday next, but may be able to attend on Wednesday. I shall therefore adjourn the Council to Wednesday next, when, if the Advocate-General be unable to attend, the Legal Remembrancer will carry the Bill through. There will remain the Muhammadan Burial Boards' Bill, which will have to be before the public for another month, and the Select Committee on the Bill which has just been introduced for enabling the Port Commissioners to lend money to the Corporation of Calcutta for constructing the new road cannot, under the rules, submit their report in less than a month; so that these two Bills can be ready for consideration together after the expiry of that period. Early in July I hope to be back in Calcutta, and I propose that we should then take up these two subjects."

The Council adjourned to Wednesday, the 15th May, 1889.

REPORT OF THE CHEMICAL EXAMINER TO GOVERNMENT FOR 1888.

RESOLUTION.

MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 13th May 1889.

READ—

A letter from the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, No. 2753, dated the 26th March 1889, forwarding the report of the Chemical Examiner for 1888.

Read also—

The Report for 1887, and the Resolution recorded on it.

There has been some delay in the submission of the report in complete form by the Chemical Examiner.

The following table shows the general nature of the work done during 1888 as compared with 1887:—

	1887.	1888.
Medico-legal—
Human viscera tested for poison	233	199
Animal ditto ditto	119	122
Fowls' ditto ditto	...	2

Telegraph Store "	8	10
Commissariat "	96	117
Army Clothing " Alipore	2	...
Other departments	112	78
Total ...	2,402	2,613

In addition to the above, 26 reports were submitted on technical questions. The preparation of these reports necessitated in many instances the performance of a series of analyses.

The number of medico-legal examinations performed during the year was 1,221 against 1,180 in 1887. Among these the most important were those of human viscera; in 12·6 per cent. of those examined, arsenic, and in 26·13 per cent. opium, were detected, while other poisons were found in 6 per cent. of the cases. Poison was detected in 44·22 per cent. of the viscera against 44·6 per cent. in 1887.

Dr. Warden has continued to investigate the properties of a number of indigenous drugs, and is now engaged in editing a new edition of Dr. Dymock's Materia Medica of Western India, which contains a history of the principal drugs of vegetable origin met with in India.

The report on tube-wells is said to be nearly ready. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes it will be submitted to Government without further delay.

The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Warden for his report, and for the good work he and his assistants have done during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. WARE EDGAR,

Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

DISTRESS IN THE PATNA DIVISION.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—FAMINE.

Calcutta, the 14th May, 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter No. 225GF, dated the 6th May, 1889, from the Officiating Commissioner of the Patna Division, reporting on the condition of the people and the prospects of the crops in the districts of that division for the fortnight ending 30th April, 1889.

The spring has been less favourable than was anticipated in regard to weather, the yield of opium, cheena, and mangoes has been deficient, while a recent report from the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, shows a marked deficiency in the rubbi harvest of the Province generally. Prices, both wholesale and retail, have risen everywhere, and, until rain falls, there will be less employment than heretofore for the working classes. The season is undoubtedly one of pressure, but it would appear that the arrangements made are adequate. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently sanctioned in full the allotments for loans under the Land Improvement and Agriculturists' Loans Acts applied for by the Commissioner, in the full belief that they will be used with caution and discretion.

2. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor have been communicated to the zemindars of Sarsund, named on the margin, for their contributions towards the cost of relief operations in the distressed tracts lying within their zemindari, in the Sitamarhi sub-division.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner for information, and that a copy, with a copy of the Report, be submitted for the information of the Government of India.

Ordered also that this Report and Resolution be published in the next issue of the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 225GF, dated Bankipore, the 6th May 1889.

From—JOHN BOXWELL, ESQ., Offg. Commissioner of the Patna Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit my report on the condition of the people and the prospects of the crops for the fortnight ending 30th ultimo.

PATNA.

2. The weather throughout the fortnight has been favourable for the threshing and winnowing operations which have almost been completed. The prices of food-grains are daily rising all over the district. The following table shows the prices ruling during the fortnight as compared with previous fortnight :—

	SUDDER.		BARH.		DINAPORE.		BEHAR.
	Past fortnight.	Present fortnight.	Past fortnight.	Present fortnight.	Past fortnight.	Present fortnight.	Past fortnight.	Present fortnight.

SARUN.

3. The Collector reports that the harvesting of the rabi crop has been completed with an outturn of 12 annas, as expected. Opium weighments have also been completed. There are no important food-crops on the ground at present deserving of notice.

The following table shows the prices-current of chief food-grains during the past fortnight as compared with the preceding one :—

	Fortnight ending 30th April.	Fortnight ending 15th April.
Wheat	14½	17
Rice	12-14	12
Marua	20	20
Gram	20-8	21-4
Indian-corn	19-8	20
Arhar	21	22-8

The increase in the prices of the rabi crops, notwithstanding the coming of the new crop into the market, is attributed partly to exportation and partly to the combination of the local bunias. The Collector states that the local stocks are as full as in ordinary years, and hence there is no room for apprehension.

In Sewan subdivision the prices are the same as in Chupra, with slight variations, while in Gopalgunge they are somewhat higher, the rise in prices being attributed to large exportation from that subdivision.

SHAHABAD.

4. The only crops on the ground at present are cheena and sugarcane. Cheena is being cut with an average outturn, and sugarcane is doing well.

The quotations from the market during the fortnight under report (noted below) show a marked rise in the prices of food-grains, and the cause is reported to be demand for exportation.

	Seers.
Best rice	9½
Common rice	13½
Wheat	15
Gram	20
Barley	19
Peas	20

The condition of the people remains unaltered.

GYA.

5. Area affected.—The area affected remains the same.

6. General state of the affected tracts.—No change in the state of the affected tracts, except that the number of labourers on relief works are increasing, as the harvesting of crops is nearly over.

Sugarcane and cheena are the only crops standing on the ground. There was no rainfall during the fortnight. There is undoubtedly considerable pinching all over the district owing to the rabi crop not having fulfilled its expectations.

Public health continues good.

7. Public Works.—An experimental test work was opened again at Kawakole, but there was no attendance of labourers. It is said that more than 200 coolies are already working under Mr. Christian and Babu Dirgopal Lal on mica mines, where they get one and a half to five annas per diem, and that about 600 labourers are working at Husua in the building of houses of Babu Dirgopal Lal and his brothers. Zemindars are now employing large number of labourers on Gilandazi work.

The attendance at the Sarawan relief works reached its highest point during the last fortnight.

The number of persons employed during the fortnight under the system of payment-by-result and task-work was 70 and 522 respectively.

About 200 persons were employed on earthwork, carried on through tuccavi loans.

8. Stocks of grain, selling prices.—The stock of grain is reported to be sufficient. Common rice is selling at 13½ to 14 seers at Gya, 15 seers at Nowada, and 17 seers at Aurungabad.

9. Gratuitous relief.—No expenditure during the fortnight.

10. Advances.—No advances under the Land Improvement and Agricultural Loans Acts could be made for want of fresh sanction of the allotments applied for in my letter No. 194G—F, dated 6th April 1889.

The amount allotted to the district lapsed at the end of the year before the necessary enquiries preliminary to distribution could be completed. Several enquiries are now complete, and the Collector is awaiting allotment to make advances.

MOZUFFERPORE.

11. Area affected.—Same as before.

12. General state of the affected tract.—No rain has fallen during the fortnight, and there has been a perceptible rise in prices, as will be seen from the quotations given below. There can be no improvement in the prospects until a fall of rain facilitates agricultural operations.

NAMES OF POLICE STATIONS.	RICE.		MACKAI.		MARUA.
	Fortnight under report.	Previous fortnight.	Fortnight under report.	Previous fortnight.	Fortnight under report.	Previous fortnight.
Sonbursa	11	12	16	19	16	19
Sursund	10-7	13½	14-10	18½	14-10	17
Majirgunge	12-0	12-8	19	20	19	20
Bela	10-12	12¾	15-1	17⅘	16-6	17⅘
Sonbursa	11-0	12	......	18	16-3	16-13

The Collector has sent a supplementary note on the cheena crop. He says 5,000 acres have been grown in the Sitamarhi subdivision, of which 2,000 only are in the affected tract. The expected outturn is only 2 annas, giving 6,500 maunds for the subdivision and 2,600 for the affected tract. Want of moisture and the strong west winds spoiled the crop.

13. Public Works.—The number of persons employed on different kinds of works during the fortnight is shown below as compared with the previous fortnight:—

	Fortnight under report.	Previous fortnight.
Civil agency works	1,175	612
Professional agency works	2,043	3,543
Private tank work	4,413	3,462

It will be seen that the number of persons employed on civil agency works and on private relief works has risen considerably. The number employed on professional agency works has fallen, but there was a sudden rise in the number of coolies working in the Shewhur road from 355 to 700 on the 27th ultimo, and it is believed that the number of labourers on professional agency will rise during the present month.

14. Gratuitous relief.—Expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 134. A large number of persons received gratuitous relief from the Maharajah of Durbhunga and other zemindars.

It will be observed that the Collector of Mozufferpore has a class "Professional agency" works, new in this report. This is clearly a wrong classification. We have no "professional agency" works in progress. The Collector probably means District Board works. The mistake is unimportant, but will be corrected.

DURBHUNGA.

15. Accounts are so far favourable that no new or sudden cause for anxiety has arisen, and that the reports of the comparative tightness of pressure in the different circles are confirmed.

16. Area affected.—No change.

17. General state of affected tract.—Circles A and B, and of these two circles A, still show the greatest pressure. Mr. Grier writes:—

"The failure of rain during the past month has tended to darken prospects."......"Moisture is badly wanted for mung and murwa."......"The former is suffering severely from the drought."......"The late winds have ruined more than 75 per cent. of the (mango) fruit"......"There is no symptom of distress in these tracts (circles C and D)."......"Public health continues to be good."

About civil agency works he writes:—

"The labour returns show a large increase in the number of workers employed on these works, the daily average having risen from 2,469 in the second week to 3,628 at the close of the month."......"The increase is visible in circles A and B, there being a falling off in the past few days in the attendance on the Ladania-Laukahi road."......"A considerable quantity of Government paisa has been issued to petty contractors to distribute as wages, and little objection has been raised by shop-keepers or labourers."......"The 'figures' of the tank at Bulwa opened for the relief of non-able bodied labourers show no increase, the daily average in the former period being 227."

A good deal of work is now being done by private agency. Mr. Grier gives attendance figures—

Men	...	1,611
Women	...	405
Children	...	361
Total	...	2,377

But as I am in correspondence with Mr. Beadon on this subject, I only add here that the total under this head is probably much larger.

Two applications for small loans lately received will probably be granted.

18. Gratuitous Relief.—No gratuitous relief has been given by the Collector. That given by the Mohunt of Motihari is considered to be sufficient. Mr. Grier writes:—

"No unfavourable symptom has appeared in this neighbourhood (Rampur-Modhuapur, the worst part of the worst Circle A) during the present month."

Prices are rising everywhere, and will probably continue to rise till rain falls.

Crime shows an increase, probably due in part to the scarcity.

Mr. Beadon gives an abstract of attendance on works, which I divide differently, keeping his table exact:—

	Men.	Women.	Children.	Total.
Civil agency and District Board works ...	7,238	166	227	7,631
Private agency and on advances	1,852	439	353	2,644
Total ...	9,090	605	580	10,275

Points of importance are these—

Prices are rising in spite of the completion of the rabi harvest.

Even in the worst parts there are no new bad symptoms. Crime returns show an increase, though not great. Weather is bad. Rain is wanted.

CHUMPARUN.

19. Area affected.—No change under this head.

20. General state of the affected tract.—Rain is now wanted for agricultural operations throughout the district. The cheena crop in the affected area is a pronounced failure for want of rain. It has already withered on high, and is fast dying in the low lands. Opium weighment is finished, and the outturn is smaller than that of the previous year.

The Collector writes:—

"The condition of the lower classes in the affected tract is no doubt straitened, and if no rain falls within the next fortnight the pressure upon this will go on increasing. They have at present nothing to look forward to except relief works for their support. There has been an increase of nearly 1,000 labourers as compared with the previous fortnight; the canoongoes describe the position as very gloomy indeed, and destitution is clearly spreading."

Public health continues good.

21. Public works.—The number of persons who found employment in the several classes of works is estimated as follows:—

On civil agency works	8,428
On District Boards' works...	437
On works carried out by means of loans	1,100
	9,965

The markets are still sufficiently supplied, but the prices are gradually rising, and have already risen, as the following quotations will show:—

	This fortnight.	Last fortnight.
	Srs. Srs.	Srs. Srs.
Common rice	11¼ to 12¼	12¼ to 14
Dhan	18½	19½ „ 20
Indian-corn	17¾ to 18¼	18¼ „ 19¼

22. Advances.—During the past fortnight the expenditure under this head was as follows:—

Under Land Improvement Act	300
„ Agriculturists Loans Act	1,055

On receipt of Government orders No. 1505—156F, dated 16th ultimo, the Collector stopped sanctioning loans, except to chowkidars in the affected area whose pay was in arrears. He says that it is inadvisable to stop altogether making advances to the ryots, as this is the most pressing time, and comparatively few ryots can obtain sufficient support from mahajans.

23. Gratuitous relief.—The expenditure under this head was Rs. 78-7-6.

CALCUTTA, the 21*st May* 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 17TH MAY 1889.

AT the close of the previous week abnormally high temperature and rather low pressures were reported over the greater part of Bengal. At the southern stations also exceedingly strong and very moist winds were reported, and these were bringing up large amounts of moisture over the province. Weather over the greater part of the province was fine, and no rain was falling except at a few stations in and near the hills in North Bengal. On the 11th a further fall of pressure took place, and the stations in the west of the province showed decidedly low pressures, and indeed they formed part of an area of barometric depression which stretched into the North-West Provinces. On the 12th pressure increased briskly over the greater part of Bengal and Assam, but still the low-pressure area in the west of the province was well marked. On the 13th pressure commenced to fall again, but the distribution over the province became rather altered. and on this day the lowest pressures were reported from Bhagulpore, Ranigunge, and Bankoora, and winds also showed a slight tendency to cyclonic circulation round the low pressure. This was followed by the development of a few local storms in East and South-West Bengal, but in most instances the storms were not of much importance. On the 14th a further and somewhat rapid fall of pressure took place over Bengal, and a shallow general low-pressure area was apparently formed. Following on this, local storms became general at almost every station in South-West and East Bengal, while they were also fairly numerous in the Patna and Bogra districts of North Bengal. On the 15th pressure rose, but the shallow depression was not entirely filled up, and local storms again occurred; but they were not so numerous as on the previous day, though some in the Moorshedabad district were particularly heavy, and Berhampur itself received 4 27 inches of rain. On the 16th again pressure increased, and this continued on the 17th over the greater part of the province, and on this day the feeble depression which had previously existed had more then filled up, and pressure had become high and decidedly above the normal in all districts, the excess being larger than a tenth of an inch in Chutia Nagpur, Orissa, and in South and East Bengal and Assam. With this changed distribution local storms almost entirely ceased to occur, and weather became generally fine except in Assam, where rain continned to fall. The wind systems blowing over the province have not changed to any material extent during the week, except in so far as becoming on some days slightly more westerly or more easterly in direction. For the greater part of the week strong southerly and south-westerly winds have been blowing in the south-western districts, and south-easterly winds in the eastern and south-eastern districts, and more or less easterly winds in the north of the province. Winds have also continued decidedly strong at the head of the Bay, and the wind velocities at Saugor Island have generally averaged from 25 to 30 miles an hour. Temperature has also continued decidedly high, though in those districts where local storms occurred, temperature fell to some extent, but for the greater part of the week the mean temperature of the province has been largely in excess of the normal.

Conditions during the week have therefore again not been favourable for general rainfall, and though moderately heavy rain has fallen in East, South-West and North Bengal, and lighter rain in Orissa, Chutia Nagpur has been almost rainless, and Behar absolutely rainless. In Assam, on the other hand, heavy rain has continued to fall.

Pressure.—The general variations of pressure during the week have already been referred to. For the whole province of Bengal for the week the mean pressure has been above the normal by 0·016 inch; but while at the southern stations the excess pressure has equalled about 0·04 inch, at the northern stations pressure has been in defect of the normal by about 0·01 inch. In Assam pressure has been in excess by 0·02 inch.

Temperature—Has been above the normal almost throughout the week in all districts except Assam. The mean temperature for the whole province of Bengal has been nearly 6° in excess of the normal for the week, while in Behar and Chutia Nagpur the excess has almost equalled 8°. Very high maximum temperatures have continued to be recorded throughout the week, the highest being 115·5° at Ranigunge for the three days 11th to the 13th. In Assam the mean temperature has been very nearly normal.

Rainfall.—The heaviest rainfall has occurred in East Bengal, the stations in which average 1·40 inches; this, however, is only about two-thirds of the normal fall for the week. In South-West Bengal the average fall has been 0·75 inch, again about two-thirds of the normal. In North Bengal the fall equals 0·65 inch, but it has been unequally distributed, and Maldah and Dinagepur have received no rain at all, while Pubna has received decidedly heavy rain. In Orissa an average fall of 0·28 inch is recorded, but Pooree and Cuttack districts have received practically no rain, while in Balasore district the fall averages 0·74 inch. In Chutia Nagpur a few showers only fell in the Singbhoom district, and Behar has been rainless.

In Assam particularly heavy rain has fallen; Sibsagor has received 6·73 inches, Silchar 4·04 inches, and Dhubri 1·47 inches.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

THE leading facts in connection with the mortuary statistics of the districts in Bengal for the month of January 1889 are the following:—

1. The deaths of 126,894 persons were registered out of a population of 66,055,695 in these districts, or at the rate of 23·04 per 1,000 per annum, against 30·12 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 25·08 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of 1888, indicating, as compared with both the periods, a large reduction in the number of deaths registered.

2. The highest deaths-rates were returned from the undermentioned districts:—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Backerganj	34·69	Bogra	27·48
Noakhali	31·56	Puri	27·00

3. The mortality from the specific diseases mentioned in the table appended below, indicates that fever prevailed with considerably less fatality during the month under notice as compared with the corresponding month of the preceding year. The fatal results from the other diseases exhibited only fractional differences, excepting injury and the maladies returned under the head of "Other causes," the death-rates from which maintained the same ratios:—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of [illegible] under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

APPENDIX TO

The Calcutta Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 22, 1889.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

No. 67 Marine, dated Calcutta, the 13th May 1889.

By the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

UNDER section 10 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1859, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules for the conduct of examinations for Masters and Mates of foreign-going ships and as to the qualifications to be required. These rules are in supersession of the rules issued under the notification dated the 28th of August 1877.

Certificates granted to persons who pass examinations.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations, and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose examiners have been appointed, and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the port of Calcutta. The examinations will be held twice a quarter, or at such other times as the Government may appoint.

Examinations continued till all the Candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the Candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

Notice of application for examination to be given to the Port Officer.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate Form (Exn. 2), which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 2, properly filled in, together with the Candidate's testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer of Calcutta not later than the day before the day of examination, and the Candidate must conform to any regulations in this respect which may be laid down by the Government, as, if this be not done, delay may be occasioned.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

4. Testimonials of character, and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct on board ship for at least the twelve months of service immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the Candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in together with the Form, Exn. 2, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

5. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners, and of British Seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the Candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country, or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case will be decided on its own merits, and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, it must be referred to the Government.

Certificates as to age.

6. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a Candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

7. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British Vessel. In the case of natives of India, who may not be able to speak English, their Certificates will be endorsed to the effect that they are only valid for vessels manned and officered entirely by Asiatics.

8. The time for which length of service as Seaman or Officer in the Mercantile Marine is to be reckoned in all cases referred to in the following paragraphs is to commence at the date when the Articles of Agreement were signed by the Applicant, and to end at the date when he was discharged as shown on the Articles of Agreement. The Certificates of Discharge will generally be sufficient evidence of this, but great care must be exercised by the Port Officer and Examiners to detect any tampering in any way with the information contained in them, and to report to the Government at once any suspicious cases.

Verification of services, &c., by Articles.

9. Services, which cannot be verified by proper Entries in the Articles of the Ships in which the Candidates have served, cannot be counted. For instance, a man will state his service to have been as Second or Only Mate, and to support his assertion will produce a Certificate of Discharge or of employment by the Master, to the effect that he served as Mate, when, on reference to the Articles, it appears that he has actually been rated as Boatswain; the service in such a case will not be regarded as having been in the capacity of Mate.

10. Whenever a man has, from any cause, been regularly promoted on a vacancy in the course of the Voyage from the rank in which he first shipped, and such promotion, with the ground on which it has been made, is properly entered in the Articles and in the Official Log Book, he will of course receive credit for his service in the higher grade for the period subsequent to his promotion.

Promotion during Voyage.

11. Service in the coasting trade may be allowed to count as service, in order to qualify a Candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency for Foreign-going Ships, it being understood, however, that service in the coasting trade must amount to half as much again as service in the foreign trade, and that service in a lower grade than that of First or Only Mate in the coasting trade will not be recognised as officer's service.

Service in the coasting trade

12. Three years' service as Mate in the coasting trade, together with at least nine months' service as Master, may be allowed to count as service for a Master's Certificate, provided the Candidates' entire service at sea calculated as above is sufficient, and that his services as Mate and Master in the coasting trade can be proved by the Articles, and provided he has already passed an examination for the Foreign Trade, unless, under special circumstances, the Government see fit to dispense with this latter provision.

13. Service in Pleasure Yachts under 80 tons, if performed within Home Trade limits, will not be accepted towards qualifying a Candidate for examination.

14. Service in Pleasure Yachts will not be accepted at all unless verified by satisfactory proofs, and it must be distinctly understood that accepted service is confined to actual sea service, service in harbour or port being inadmissible. See also para. 21.

15. Time for which Indentures of Apprenticeship are in force will be accepted as sea service, provided that the Apprentice has remained by the ship for at least four-fifths of the time covered by the Indentures, and the Indentures of the applicant are endorsed by the Owner or Master to whom he has been bound, to the effect that he has performed his service faithfully for the whole time agreed upon.

Service as an Apprentice.

16. Service as Third or Fourth Mate may be accepted as equivalent to service as Second Mate to qualify a Candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency as First Service as 3rd or 4th Mate to qualify for 1st Mate.

Mate, provided he is able to produce a satisfactory testimonial from the Master or owner of the vessel in which the service was performed, showing that he has had charge of a watch while serving as such Third or Fourth Mate, and that during the whole of the time claimed he was in possession of a Second Mate's Certificate of Competency, valid in the United Kingdom.

Service as 3rd or 4th Mate to qualify for Master.

17. Service as Third or Fourth Mate may also be accepted on the same conditions to qualify a Candidate for examination for a Master's Certificate of Competency, provided he can produce satisfactory evidence of his having served at sea 12 months as Second Mate of a Foreign-going Ship while in possession of a First Mate's Certificate of Competency, valid in the United Kingdom. If a Candidate has had no service as First Mate he must have been six and-a-half years at sea, of which two and-a-half years must have been as Mate of a lower grade under the above-named conditions. It will also be noted that occasional service in charge of a watch in the daytime will not be accepted as Mate's service under the Regulations.

Service on board a Training Ship.

18. Part of the time served on board a training ship will be allowed to count as service at sea, provided that the Candidate can produce amongst his testimonials a Certificate from the Committee that he has conducted himself creditably, and passed a good examination in seamanship so far as practised in the training ship as well as in other matters down to the time of his leaving the ship.

19. No period of service on board a training ship will be allowed to count for more than one year's sea service, nor can it be accepted as equivalent to service in square-rigged vessels.

Service in Auxiliary Screw Whaling ships.

20. Service in Auxiliary Screw Whaling Ships and other Vessels with auxiliary steam power, which use their screws only in calms or during light winds, is considered as service performed in Sailing Vessels. Such service is not to be accepted in cases where service on board Foreign-going Steam-ships is required.

Service in Trawlers, Yachts, &c.

21. Service performed in Trawlers, Yachts, &c., alone will not qualify a Candidate for examination for a Foreign-going Certificate. He must show that he has served, in addition thereto, 18 months in an ordinary trading vessel.

Service in capacities other than as Apprentice or Seaman.

22. Candidates whose services have been in capacities other than Apprentice, Ordinary Seaman, or Able Seaman, e.g., Cook, Steward, Carpenter, &c., will be required to satisfy the Port Officer that they have a good knowledge of Seamanship. This may possibly be proved by the production of satisfactory Certificates from Masters with whom the Applicants have served. Failing satisfactory evidence, the Applicant may be required to perform additional service, which must be in the capacity of Ordinary Seaman or Able Seaman.

23. Service performed on rivers, no matter of what size, or in smooth-water or partially smooth-water cannot be accepted.
Service on rivers and in smooth-waters.

24. A person who has lost the sight of one eye cannot be allowed to be examined for a Certificate of Competency. If he already holds a Certificate, he will not be allowed to be examined for a Certificate of a higher grade.
Loss of sight.

25. Service in Light Ships or in an Engine-room will not be accepted as sea service for a Master's or Mate's Certificate of Competency.
Service in Light Ships and Engine-room.

26. In the case of service on board Excursion Steamers only such service as has been performed actually at sea can be accepted.

27. A First Class Pilot, with one year's Sea Service since he obtained his Pilot's Certificate, may be examined for a First Mate's Certificate for Foreign-going Ships. A Hooghly Master Pilot is for the purpose of this rule to be considerd a First Class Pilot.

28. Half the amount of service performed as an Apprentice in a Pilot Vessel propelled by sails may count as actual Sea—Service to qualify for examination for a Certificate of Competency.
Services as Pilot's Apprentice.

29. Candidates who have neglected to join their vessels after having signed Articles, or who have deserted their vessels after having joined, or who have been found guilty of gross misconduct on board, will be required to produce satisfactory proofs of two years' subsequent service and good conduct at sea, unless the Local Government after having investigated the matter should see fit to reduce the time.
Desertion and gross misconduct.

30. If after a Candidate has passed his Examination it is discovered on further investigation, e.g., by verification on the part of the Port Officer, that his services are insufficient to entitle him to receive a Certificate of the grade for which he has passed, it will not be granted to him; but if the Government is satisfied that the error in the calculation of his services did not occur through any fault or wilful misrepresentation on his part, he will be allowed to go up for re-examination without payment of further fee when he has performed the amount of service in which he was deficient.
If after passing examination services are found to have been insufficient.

31. If, in such a case, the applicant's services are sufficient to entitle him to receive a Certificate of a lower grade, provided as aforesaid he has not wilfully misrepresented the amount of his services, an Inferior Certificate may be granted to him, and the difference, if any, between the fee paid by him for the Superior Certificate and the fee payable for the Inferior Certificate, may be placed to his credit.
Certificate of a lower grade may be granted on certain conditions.

32. In such a case when the applicant has by further service made up the amount in which he was found to be short, he must, before he can receive the higher Certificate, be re-examined in all the subjects.
Must be re-examined for certificate of higher grade.

Colour Tests.

33. The Government have made the following arrangements for the Examination of persons as to their ability to distinguish Colours :—*

34. Examinations in Colour are open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine.

35. Any person, including the holders of Certificate of Competency, or persons about to apply for Certificates of Competency, if desirous of being examined in colours only, must make application to the Port Officer on Form Exn. 2[a], and pay a fee of one rupee.

36. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office; and if he passes he will receive a Certificate to that effect.

37. If he fails it will be open to him to be examined again in Colours as often as he pleases on payment of the fee of one rupee at each fresh attempt.

38. The application of a Candidate who is presenting himself for Examination for a Master's or Mate's Certificate must be made on Form Exn. 2.—Such examination will commence with the Colour test; and if the Candidate does not, at the time of making application, hold a Certificate of Competency of any grade, and should fail to distinguish correctly any one of the colours used in the test, he will not be allowed to proceed with the examination in Navigation and Seamanship.

39. The fee he has paid for Examination for a Certificate of Competency will include the fee for the Colour test, and, with the exception of one rupee, will, in such event, be returned to him.

40. A Candidate for Examination for a Certificate of Competency who, at the time of making application, does not possess a Certificate, and who fails to pass the colour test, may not be re-examined until after the lapse of three months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another three months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

41. It is therefore obviously to the advantage of Candidates for Certificates of Competency to apply in the first instance to be examined in Colours only on Form 2[a].

42. A Candidate who holds a Certificate of Competency, and who, on presenting himself for Examination for a Certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the Colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed with the Examination in Navigation and Seamanship for the Certificate of the higher grade.

* See Appendix L.

43. Should he pass this Examination the following statement will be written on the face of the higher Certificate which may be granted to him, viz.: "This officer has failed to pass the 'Examination in Colours.'"

44. Should he ultimately fail to pass the Examination in Navigation and Seamanship a like statement, relating to his being Colour blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing Certificate before it is returned to him.

45. Holders of Certificates which bear the statement of their having failed to pass in Colours, and who may desire to have the statement removed from their Certificates, must obtain the special permission of the Government.

80. If he fails three times in Navigation he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of THREE MONTHS from the date of the last failure.

81. If a Candidate has failed in his Examination, but the subjects in which he has failed are not included in the subjects required for a Certificate of a lower grade, he may, if he desires it, receive a Certificate of such lower grade.

84. If a Candidate fails in his examination for an ordinary Certificate, he may, if qualified, and upon payment of another fee, &c., be examined for a Certificate of Competency for Foreign-going Steam-ships without waiting the usual time after failure.

Fees.

85. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 2, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken, whether by enquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. 86. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a Candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port office, the Candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected, and not allowed to be again examined for twelve months.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination, s. 133.

General.

89. Certificates of Competency shall be made and issued by the Government in the forms herounto annexed.

90. Every Certificate of Competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the Certificate and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

General Instructions to Examiners and Candidates.

91. All instruments necessary for use in the examinations are supplied by the Government.

Prohibited books and papers.

92. Before commencing the examination, the tables or desks must be cleared of all scraps of paper, or books that are not used in the examination, and care should be taken that the candidates do not bring into the examination room any book, paper, document, or memoranda of any description whatever. No person whatever should be allowed in the room during the time of examination, but those whose duties require them to be present.

93. No instructors will be allowed on the premises.

94. Candidates will under no pretence whatever be allowed to leave the premises while the examination is proceeding. If a Candidate has occasion to visit the retiring room he will only be allowed to do so on the completion of the paper on which he may be engaged, when he will be required to enter in a book, kept for the purpose, the exact time of his leaving and returning to the examination room. When only a few Candidates are under examination, two persons will not be allowed to leave the room at the same time.

Candidates not to leave premises during examination.

95. Candidates should be so placed as to prevent one copying from the other, and no communication whatever between the Candidates should be allowed.

Position of Candidates at examination.

96. If any blotting paper is allowed it should be black; and when the first examination paper is issued each Candidate should be furnished with a piece which should be returned to the Examiner upon the completion of the last paper.

Blotting paper.

97. The examination papers should be issued to the Candidates in half sheets only, and one at a time. This will prevent a Candidate from spreading out the sheets on the table in an apparently careless manner, but so as to enable his nearest neighbour to look over and copy, or examine the problems. It will also enable the Examiner to look over and report upon the work on one half sheet, while the Candidate is at work upon another, and so on. When the errors are not too numerous, or when they are not from ignorance of the subject, the incorrect problems may be returned to the Candidate for correction, but in no case should the errors be pointed out by the Examiner, neither should any marks be made on the correct work of the problem, which would at once indicate how far or to what extent the work is correct. Should the problems be returned to the Examiner the second time incorrect, this would be a failure; and as the time allowed is considered ample for working out the papers carefully, this rule is expected to be strictly observed.

How examination papers should be issued.

98. When from the large number of the Candidates, it may be found impossible to look over the work, on the day of examination during the office hours, an hour in the morning of the following day may be allotted for the purpose of correcting the problems, but in no case should a Candidate have his problem returned to him for correction after he has made the second attempt.

In certain cases problems may be corrected on morning following examination day.

99. The paper (Exn. 4A) is only for those Candidates who present themselves for examination for the first time. It is intended not only to ensure on the part of the Candidate a knowledge of the meaning of a variety of terms of great use to the Navigator respecting which much ignorance exists at present, but at the same time to test his handwriting and spelling.

100. In using this paper, the Examiner will place a mark against the numbers of the particular questions which he selects for answers, and not less than ten questions should be selected. The Candidate will then write against the questions so marked his definition of the terms in a clear and legible hand, so as to prevent the possibility of any letter being mistaken. Attention should be paid to the spelling and writing of all grades of Candidates. The supplementary vivâ voce test should also be applied as usual.

Re-questions on Deviation of the Compass. (Exn. 7, Appendix G.)

101. In the questions on Deviation of the Compass (Exn. 7, Appendix G) the Examiner should indicate by a mark against at least twelve of the questions for answers, and those indicated must be correctly answered. The selected questions should be varied frequently, and no two Candidates should have precisely the same questions. The Candidate should be furnished with sheets of blank ruled paper which is supplied for that purpose with instructions that he is to write only on one side of the paper, and to answer each of the questions against which a mark is placed in a clear and legible hand, and to commence each answer by writing down the number of the question to which it relates in the margin left for that purpose. In answering question 19, besides giving a full explanation in writing, of the tentative method* of compass adjustment (accompanied by the usual supplementary vivâ voce test), the Candidates should be required to illustrate by diagrams how the poles of the magnets are placed with regard to the compass needle for correcting the semi-circular deviation, as well as the heeling error, and also how the soft iron should be placed for correcting the quadrantal deviation, or the Candidate may be tested by " Beall's Compass Deviascope," in which case it will not be necessary for him to give the written answer and sketches.

Vivâ voce examination.

102. In the vivâ voce examination a reasonable time should be allowed for the Candidate to give his answers. No assistance should be given or leading question put.

Adjustment of sextant.

103. Particular attention should be paid to the adjustments of the sextant, and the written answers should be given on the ruled paper in the same manner as the answers to the questions on Exn. 7, and the supplementary vivâ voce test applied as usual. Every Candidate should have a practical knowledge of what is known as the first three adjustments, and be able to read correctly off the arc, a supposed index error to be given by the Examiner as additive, as well as reading on the arc in the usual way.

* See Appendix M.

104. All outstanding or minor corrections should appear in the margin of each problem paper; also on the chart papers Exn. 9C and Exn. 9D; and unless all these corrections appear on the papers of the Candidate they will not be considered complete.

Minor corrections.

105. In every case the Examination, whether for Only Mate, First Mate, or Master, is to commence with the problems for Second Mate.

Examination to commence with that for Second Mate.

106. Examiners should bear in mind that the problems to be performed are required as tests, and for the purposes of an Examination, and not for sea-going or practical purposes alone.

Problems required as tests.

107. The Candidates will be allowed to work out the various problems according to the method and the tables they have been accustomed to use.

Time allowed for Problems and Writings.

108. Candidates for Second Mates' Certificates of Competency must complete the whole of their Examination in Navigation in eight hours, including the time allowed for writing the definitions (Exn. 4*a*), the paper on the adjustment of the sextant, and the correction of all errors and oversights; but the nautical problems on Forms "Exn. 4" and "Exn. 5" must be completed within six hours, and without the Candidates leaving the premises during that period.

Time allowed for working problems.

109. Candidates for Only and First Mates' Certificates must complete the whole of their examination in Navigation in twelve and-a-half hours,* including the time allowed for the papers on the sextant; the chart; cyclones or revolving storms; and for the correction of all errors and oversights; but the nautical problems on Forms "Exn. 4," "Exn. 5," and "Exn. 6" must be completed within six hours, and without the Candidates leaving the premises during that period.

110. Candidates for Certificates as Masters,' Ordinary, must complete the whole of their examination in Navigation in fifteen hours; including the time allowed for the papers on the sextant; the chart; compass deviation; cyclones or revolving storms; and for the correction of all errors and oversights; but the problems on Forms "Exn. 4," "Exn. 5," and "Exn. 6," must be completed within six hours, and without the Candidates leaving the premises during that period.

111. Candidates after finishing the problems required of the respective grades on the first day of examination should proceed, until the end of that day, with such subjects as the definitions, sextant, chart, and Question 19 of Form "Exn. 7."

* A Candidate other than Second Mate who may not previously have passed an examination may be allowed the time occupied in writing his definitions on Exn. 4*a*, in addition to the above.

112. The Sumner Problem (Exn. 6*a*) must on no account be given out to any of the grades on the first day of the examination, but should be the commencement of the Candidate's work on the second day, and on completion of this problem the Candidates for Masters' Certificates should proceed with the problems on paper "Exn. 7."

113. Candidates for Foreign-going Steam-ship Certificates of Competency will be allowed the same amount of time to perform their navigation, &c., as hereinbefore laid down for the respective grades for the Ordinary Foreign-going Certificates.

114. Deviation of the Compass.—A period not exceeding eleven hours will be allowed to Candidates for the completion of the whole of the examination in the Syllabus, including the correction of all errors and oversights in both the problems and writings.

Additional time allowed in special cases.

115. Punctually at the expiration of the prescribed time all the papers should be called up, whether completed or not, and if not completed, the Candidate will be declared to have failed, unless the Port Officer or the Examiner see fit to longthen the period in any special case. If, however, the period is lengthened in any case, the special circumstances of that case, and the reasons for lenthening the period, together with the time allowed, must be reported to the Government by the Examiners, in the column for "remarks" on the Form Exn. 14. It should be noted that the periods prescribed in the foregoing paragraphs are not intended to include the time occupied by the vivâ voce part of the examination.

116. It is anticipated that but few of the Candidates for Certificates of Competency for any of the foregoing grades will require the whole of the time herein allowed for completing their Examination in Navigation; and ample time has been prescribed, so that Candidates may perform their work in a careful, clear, and legible manner, and to the entire satisfaction of the Examiners.

Degree of Precision required in the Solution of the Problems.

117. In order to prevent any misapprehension as to the degree of precision required by the Regulations in working out the various problems in the Examinations for Masters' and Mates' Certificates, the attention of Examiners and Candidates is particularly directed to the following Instructions:—

(a.) Candidates are expected to work out their answers to all problems within or not to exceed a margin of one mile of position from a correct result (e.g., in problems where the answer required is a latitude, longitude, or distance), excepting in finding the ship's position by "Sumner's" method, where a margin of 2½ miles will be allowed.

(b.) In such problems as the "Amplitude" and "Alt-Azimuth," where the bearings, deviations, &c, only are required, a margin of 2′, or 3′, from a correct result will be sufficiently accurate.

(c.) In no problem is the Candidate for an "ordinary" Certificate required by the Regulations to correct for second differences in taking out the quantities from the Nautical Almanac.

(d.) In solving the "Time Azimuth" problem, an answer not exceeding half a degree from the exact result will be sufficiently near. But in all cases the actual latitude, declination, and time used, together with the exact bearing (from the North or South) as given in the tables, must be clearly shown by the Candidate on his papers.

(e.) In interpolating for the correct deviation to be applied in solving the Chart question, Papers "Exn. 9 C." and "Exn. 9 D," it will usually be sufficiently near if the Candidate works throughout with the nearest degree of deviation taken from the "Deviation Card," and even in cases where the deviations may vary but little, the nearest half degree used throughout will be sufficiently precise, and will at the same time prove whether the Candidate understands the method of arriving at the amount of, and applying, deviations. It is not necessary that the Candidate should waste his time in solving the course to odd minutes as is sometimes done.

(f.) In calculating the correction to apply to the Soundings, Question 5 of Paper "Exn. 9 D," the Candidate is not required to work out to the exact inch, as is sometimes done. It will be sufficiently near if he brings his answer within half a foot or so of a precise result.

It must be clearly understood in reading the foregoing Instructions that it is always provided the work of the Candidate is correct in principle.

Supplementary vivâ voce Examination on written Papers.

118. An impression prevails in regard to the examination of Masters and Mates, that so long as a Candidate can commit to paper correct answers to the various questions requiring written answers (e.g., Forms Exn. 4*a*, Exn. 7, Exn. 9*a*, Exn. 9*c*, Exn. 32, 70, &c.), no matter how indicative the answers may be of their having been learnt off by rote only, the duty and responsibility of the Examiners are at an end, and that they have no power or authority to reject a Candidate should his written answers be correct.

119. Lest, therefore, such an impression should prevail, Candidates for Certificates of Competency should bear in mind that they are not only expected to give correct written answers, which may merely be learnt off by rote, but they are expected to possess an intelligent knowledge of the various subjects prescibed in the Regulations, particularly as regards the important subject of the Deviation of the Compass.

120. This result may be easily attained by the Examiner putting a few vivâ voce questions to the Candidate as the papers are brought up for inspection, or at any subsequent time if more convenient. The oral questions (suggested by the printed questions and the answers given) should be such that the Examiner may satisfy himself that the candidate possesses a real knowledge of what he has written, and should be confined strictly to the subjects of the printed questions. Should the candidate then exhibit ignorance of the subjects, the Examiner (who is in a position to judge of the real knowledge the man before him possesses) should deal with him at his discretion, notwithstanding that the candidate may have written all the answers correctly by rote.

121. When an Examiner finds it necessary to fail a Candidate in this supplementary vivâ voce test, a memorandum containing the particulars of the points on which the candidate was ignorant, i.e., the identical questions and the identical answers given, must in each case be attached to his examination papers, when forwarded in the usual course to the Port Officer, or the particulars may be set forth by the Examiner in the margins of the candidate's papers in red ink.

Form Exn. 16. Completion of examination.

122. If the Candidate passes, he will receive the Form Exn. 16, upon which the Government, will issue the Certificate to the candidate, whose testimonials, &c., will be returned at the same time.

Special Notice to Candidates.

123. The attention of Candidates is specially called to the following Regulations :—

124. Candidates are required to appear at the examination-room punctually at the time appointed.

125. Candidates are prohibited from bringing into the examination-room books, paper, or memoranda of any kind whatever. The slightest infringement of this regulation will subject the offender to all the penalties of a failure, and he will not be allowed to present himself for re-examination for a period of three months.

126. In the event of any Candidate being detected in defacing, blotting, writing in, or otherwise injuring any book or books belonging to the Government, the papers of such Candidate will be detained until the book or books so defaced be replaced by him. He will not, however, be at liberty to remove the damaged book, which will still remain the property of the Government.

127. In the event of any Candidate being discovered referring to any book or memoranda, copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another, during the time of examination or copying any part of the problems for the purpose of taking out of the Examination rooms, he will subject himself to all the penalties of a failure, and he will not be allowed to be examined for a period of six months.

128. No Candidate will be allowed to work out his problems on a slate or on waste paper.

129. No Candidate will be permitted to leave the room until he has given up the paper on which he is engaged.

130. Candidates will find it more convenient, both here and at sea, to correct the declination and other elements from the Nautical Almanac by the "hourly differences," which have been given in that work in order to facilitate such calculations; they will thereby render themselves independent of any proportional or logarithmic table for such purpose.

131. The corrections by inspection from tables given in some of the works on Navigation will not be allowed (see Tables IX, XI and XXI in Norie's Epitome, &c.); every correction must appear on the papers of the Candidates.

132. Any candidate who may be guilty of insolence to the Examiner or of other misconduct will render himself liable to the postponement of his examination, or, if he has passed, to the detention of his Certificate for such period as the Government may direct.

133. For rules as to amount of time allowed to perform the work, see page 36.

Masters' and Mates' Voluntary Examinations in Steam.

Voluntary Examinations in Steam.

134. These examinations are limited to Masters and First or Only Mates who are possessed of or entitled to Certificates of Competency, and are provided for the purpose of giving them an opportunity of undergoing a voluntary examination as to their practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam engine. They are conducted under the superintendence of the Port Officer at such times as they may appoint for the purpose; and the Examiners are selected by the Government from the Engineer-Surveyors appointed under the Indian Steam Ships Act, 1884.

Application, how to be made. Exn. 2.

135. Any Master or Mate desiring to be examined in Steam must deliver to the Port Officer a statement in writing to that effect, upon the Form of Application (Exn. 2.), and the applicant's Certificate of Competency must be delivered to the Port Officer along with his statement. If he is about to pass an examination for a Certificate of Competency at the same time, the applications should be sent in together.

Fee to be paid. Conduct of examination, &c.

136. A fee of Rs. 12 must be paid by the applicant for the examination in Steam, and the Port Officer will thereupon inform him of the time and place at which he is to attend to be examined, and the examination will then and there proceed in the same manner as the other examinations. If the applicant fails, and has given in his Certificate, it will be at once returned to him.

Record of Certificate. Exn. 14.

137. If the applicant passes, the Report (Exn. 14.) and the Certificate of Competency with the Form (Exn. 2.) will be sent to the Government; the words "Passed in Steam," with the date and place of examination, will then be entered on the Certificate and its counterpart, and the Certificate will be sent to the Port Officer to be delivered to the applicant in the usual manner.

Failure.

138. If the applicant fails he may not present himself for re-examination until the expiration of three months from the date of failure.

Extent of examination.

139. The examination is for the most part vivâ voce, and extends to a general knowledge of the practical use and working of the steam engine, and of the various valves, fittings, and pieces of machinery connected with it. Intricate theoritical questions on calculations of horse-power or areas of cylinders and valves, or any of the more difficult questions which appertain to steam engines and boilers, will not be asked. The examination will in fact be confined to what a Master of a steam-vessel may be called upon to perform in the case of the death, incapacity, or delinquency of the engineer.

140. Examiners are to be careful in their examinations to satisfy themselves that applicants really do know the names and uses of the various parts of engines and boilers, and their connecting pipes, valves, cocks, &c. Practical knowledge, as distinguished from theories, abstruse calculations, and book learning, is to be the test of the applicant's fitness to have his Certificate indorsed.

Where examination to be conducted.

141. The Examiner should arrange to conduct part of the examination in the engine-room of a Steam-ship, unless from circumstances he finds it impossible to do so; and if an opportunity offer the applicant should be permitted, under the guidance of the Examiner, to start and stop the engine of some vessel which may have her steam up.

142. The Examiner, in sending in his report of examinations of Masters and Mates in steam, should state where the examination has been held.

143. Candidates will be required to give written answers to sixteen out of twenty questions taken from a book of Elementary Questions pulished by the Government.* These questions will be altered from time to time without notice. The twenty questions are not to be difficult, theoretical, or book questions, but are to be such as any man of ordinary capacity ought to answer who has any "practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam-engine."

Examination in elementary questions.

144. These questions, with the Candidate's answers, should be sent to the Government, with the reports, after each examination.

Answers to be sent to the Board of Trade

145. These answers will also assist in enabling the Government to decide any question that may hereafter arise in cases where it is alleged that applicants have been improperly passed, or improperly rejected.

146. The Examiners will be careful that if any Candidate refers to any book or paper or memorandum, or obtains information from another Candidate during the examination, he will be treated as having failed, will forfeit his fee, and will not be allowed to be re-examined for a period of three months.

Candidates referring to books, &c., to be put down as failed.

147. The Examiners will report in the case of failure, the nature of the question or questions that decided the failure, or the point in the management of the engine in which the Candidate was deficient.

In cases of failure Examiner to report questions that decided it.

148. There is nothing in the Regulations requiring that applicants for the voluntary examination shall have served on board Steam-Ships; all that is required is that they shall have a "practical knowledge." Examiners will, of course, not fail to appreciate the fact, when passing applicants, that practical knowledge is best gained in the engine-room; and the examination of an Officer who does not produce official evidence of service in Steam Ships, and of experience of engines, must necessarily be more searching than in the case of one who produces evidence of such service and experience.

BAY OF BENGAL.

ANDAMAN ISLANDS.

Regarding Little Andaman, Jane's Patch and Diligent Straits.

THE following information has been received from Commander Alfred Carpenter, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India:—

Little Andaman.—The bank off the S. W. Point of this Island has now been thoroughly examined. There are some rocky ridges in the centre, partly overgrown with weed, with as little as 5½ fathoms over them. In the S. W. monsoon the rollers on the bank are probably dangerous. The shoal centre lies in latitude 10° 31′ N., longitude 92° 13′ E.

Jane's Patch—marked on charts of the Andaman Islands in latitude 12° 9′ N., longitude 93° 12′ E., does not exist; but Minerva Ledge is in its correct position.

Diligent Straits.—These straits having been thoroughly surveyed are found to be free from danger, except between Strait Island and Wilson Island (formerly called Round Hill Point). The dangers in this portion may be avoided by keeping South Button Island, just touching the north point of Outram Island, on a bearing of N. E. ¾ E. South Button Island may be passed close to on its northern side. There is a two-fathom patch one mile north of the N. W. point of Wilson Island (or Round Hill.)

Particulars of St. Lazarus bank.

THE British Admiralty have given notice (Notice to Mariners No 107 of 1889) that the following information relating to St. Lazarus bank has been received from Commander T. F. Pullen, being the result of an examination made by H. M. surveying Vessel Stork and her boats, extending over sixdays, from 3rd to 8th February 1889 :—

The area of the bank within the depths of 100 fathoms is fo oblong shape, 11 miles long north and south, with an extreme breadth of 6 miles, and is included between the parallels of 12° 12′ and 12° 22′ S , and long. 41° 20′ and 41° 26½′ E.

The general depth was found to be under 20 fathoms, the nature of the bottom being sand and coral. The shoalest part within the depth of 10 fathoms is near the northern end of the bank, and is about 4 miles long in a north-west direction and 2 miles broad ; the least depth found of 3½ fathoms being confined to a small coral patch in lat. 12° 13′ S., long. 41° 21¾′ E.

Beyond the depth of 100 fathoms the soundings increase rapidly ; at 6 miles north-east of the shoalest part, 1,080 fathoms was found, and at 14 and 25 miles eastward of the shoal part 1,308 and 1,131 fathoms were obtained.

A regular tide was observed when at anchor on the bank, the flood setting E. S. E. about 4 hours, and the ebb W. N. W. about 7 hours, with about half an hour slack water ; the strength at springs was 2 knots ; the rise and fall approximately 12 feet It is probable that at a little distance from the bank, and when out of the influence of the tidal streams that exist upon it, the currents vary in direction and velocity at different times of the year.

Fish in abundance were caught on the bank.

Having regard to the nature of this examination as detailed by Commander Pullen, it is considered that the several shoal soundings hitherto reported on or near St. Lazarus bank fall within the area assigned to it by H. M. S. Stork.

BURMA COAST.

Regarding Baragua Flats—Gulf of Martaban.

COMMANDER ALFRED CARPENTER, R.N., in charge Marine Survey of India, has given notice that the I. M. Steamer Enterprise having carefully examined the southern edge of these flats found that the soundings shown on the present Admiralty Chart had not altered.

Navigators should bear in mind that high water full and change occurs at about 10*h.* 30*m.* west of the Krishna Shoal, and that the set of the stream will therefore differ very considerably from any calculation based on high or low water at Elephant Point, Rangoon.

Approaching Amherst, vessels will find a swatch of about 14 fathoms with 11 fathoms on either side of it lying near the western limit of Double Island light.

Soundings have altered very much in Lat. 15° N. and Long. 96° 50′ E., the twenty fathom line now stretching out to that position. Indications of this change will be seen on Admiralty Chart 823, south of the parallel of 15 degrees.

See Admiralty Charts 823, 830 and 70.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—(No. 44).

BAY OF BENGAL.

MADRAS COAST.

Regarding Sacramento Shoal—Godavari Coast.

THE following information has been received from Commander Carpenter, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India:—

Sacramento Shoal.—Lying in Lat. 16° 35′ 30″N., Long 82° 19′E., is a sand bank which nearly dries. From it, Hope Island light-house bears North distant 13½ miles

Its outer edge is two miles from the line of coast.

The ten fathom line runs two miles outside the bank.

There are always breakers on it except at its very extreme.

An arm of the Godavari River has formed two spits, the southern of which is called the Sacramento Shoal. There is excellent anchorage of four fathoms under the lee of the northern spit. Between the spits there is a channel into the river having nine feet on the bar at low water; and deep water inside right up to the Godavari.

The only clearing mark by day is Thirthalmundi village, which stands on a mound with an obelisk among the huts bearing N. by W. which leads one mile outside the shoal.

By night, Hope Island light visible on a clear night from a few ratlines up the rigging, bearing N. by W. leads two miles outside the shoal.

Thirthalmundi village, eight miles south of Hope Island light, is marked on Admiralty Chart 71A.

Distances estimated by eye are very deceptive on this coast.

Bearings are Magnetic.

See Admiralty Charts 71A, 828, 70, and Bay of Bengal Pilot, pages 125-129, and Marine Survey Chart £1172.

BAY OF BENGAL.

ORISSA COAST.

Navigators cautioned when passing the localities near the Dévi River mouth and entrance into Chilka Lake.

THE following information has been received from Commander Carpenter, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India:—

By a recent survey of the coast between the Mahanaddi river and Gopalpur, it was found that the coast was quite free from submerged dangers. A small bank projects three-quarters of a mile seaward from the Dévi river mouth, and a similar one projects half a mile seaward from the entrance into Chilka lake.

Vessels should not shoal to less than 9 fathoms when passing these localities.

Otherwise the coast is clear, but the ten-fathom line frequently runs within three-quarters of a mile of the breakers on the shore.

There is a channel of 8 feet at low water into the Dévi river.

The northern mouth of the Mahanaddi appears to have closed, and the breakers off the southern mouth are now extending seaward.

Between Dévi river and Gopalpur the 20-fathom line varies from 5 to 13 miles off shore, and the 100-fathom line maintains a fairly uniform distance off shore of 18 miles.

Distances judged by eye are very deceptive on this coast.

Bearings are magnetic.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE EDEN SANITARIUM FOR THE YEAR 1888.

MEDICAL.

Darjeeling, the 25th May 1889.

READ—

The Report on the working of the Eden Sanitarium for the year 1888.

Read also—

Report for the year 1887, and the Resolution recorded upon it.

The following statement, which testifies to the growing popularity of the institution, shows the number of patients, with their relatives and attendants, excluding infants in arms, admitted into the Sanitarium during the past five years:—

	1884.	1885.	1886.	1887.	1888.
Patients	153	192	273	344	336
Relatives and attendants	73	68	120	84	107
Total ...	226	260	393	428	443

Of the 443 persons admitted, 48 were admitted in the 1st class, 281 in the 2nd class, and 114 in the 3rd class. Several applications had to be refused owing to want of accommodation.

The daily average number of patients during the year was 39·17 for the nine months the institution was open, against 35·67 in the previous year, while the average stay of each patient was 24·37 days as compared with 22·60 in 1887. Most of the patients admitted were suffering from fever, although there were also many cases of dysentery, rheumatism, tubercular diseases of the lungs, diarrhœa, and affections of the skin. Four deaths occurred during the year.

The receipts from paying patients amounted to Rs. 33,579-2, against Rs. 29,454 in 1887. The total receipts, including balance of the previous year, were Rs. 36,996-0-11, and the expenditure was Rs. 35,778-3-9. The expenditure under the head of European medicines was more than double of what it was in 1887, owing to the fact that two years' supplies were obtained from Europe. The expenditure under the head of Diet, excluding the amount paid on account of 1887, was Rs. 13,759-5-6, against Rs. 12,752-5 in 1887, thus showing an increase of Rs. 1,007, due mainly to the increase in the number of patients.

During the year the Committee paid Rs. 4,801-8-6 of debt, and at the end of the year nothing was owed, except Rs. 800 due to the Superintendent.

The building is in fairly good order, but a dead-house is said to be urgently required, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes this want will soon be supplied.

The Resident Medical Officer and the nursing staff rendered valuable services to the institution. As the Steward did not give satisfaction his services were dispensed with at the close of the season. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the Committee and the Superintendent for the interest they have taken in the welfare of the Sanitarium.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

JOHN EDGAR,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

		Rampur Hât ...	1·70
	4	Midnapur „ 25, '89	2·14	Weather—rather cooler. There have been heavy local showers in most parts of the district. They have come opportunely for ploughing and sowing. The mulberry and worms both suffered much from the heat. At Ghatal cocoons sold at from Rs. 16 to Rs. 30 a maund during the current month. Price of rice at Sudder Rs. 2-9-3, Tamluk Rs. 2-13, and Ghatal Rs. 2-8 per maund. Prices still rising at several thanas.
	5	Hooghly „ 25, '89	......	Slight showers of rain have fallen throughout the district during the week, and the prospects of crops in consequence are looking up. Price of common rice at Jehanabad Rs. 2-9, Serampore Rs. 3-4, and Hooghly Rs. 3-6 per maund.
		Serampore ...	1·44
		Jehanabad ...	1·22

		Meherpur ...	0·73
		Chooadanga ...	0·05
		Ranaghat ...	1·62
	8	Khoolna „ 25, '89	0·22	Weather—occasionally cloudy; temperature lower than last week. A little rain has fallen in all parts of the district, and prospects are somewhat improved. Land is being prepared for amun and sugarcane. Jute is being sown in the head-quarter sub-division, but the prospects of the crop are not good, and in Satkhira it could not be sown for want of rain.
	9	Jessore „ 25, '89	1·42	Weather—hot and cloudy. The recent rain has done much good to the sowings. More rain is still wanted. Amun, aus, jute and indigo are being sown. Prices still rising.
		Narail ...	0·15
		Bongong ...	0·62
	10	Moorshedabad „ 25, '89	2·61	Weather—cooler with thunderstorms and passing showers; wind generally south-east. Sowing of aus dhan is going on over the greater part of the district. The rain has not visited a small area in the north-east corner of the district.

		Jungipore ...	2·30
		Kandi ...	4·52
RAJSHAHYE DIVN.	11	Dinagepur „ 25, '89	0·14	Weather—fairly cool and cloudy. There have been light showers pretty generally throughout the district, but not enough to do much good to forward sowings or growth of rice and jute seedlings. Heavy rain is badly wanted. Coarse rice 13 to 14 seers per rupee.
		Thakurgaon ...	0·82
	12	Rajshahye „ 25, '89	0·78	Weather—hot and cloudy. Boro dhan is being reaped. More rain urgently wanted for cultivation and for young paddy.
		Nattore ...	0·30
		Nowgong ...	0·74
	13	Rungpore „ 25, '89	1·46	Weather—overcast with frequent storms in the earlier part of the week, but steady sunshine at its close. The prospects of the rice and jute crops have greatly improved, but much of the aus or early rice was damaged beyond repair by the drought. It will certainly be a poor crop. Cultivators found it difficult to keep down the weeds.
		Gaibanda ...	2·74
		Kurigram ...	3·94
	14	Bogra „ 25, '89	0·10	Weather—much cooler; variable sky and winds. Jute and aus rice are still being sown, but with poor prospects. Rain is very much wanted. In some places amun rice is being sown. Cattle disease is rather prevalent. Common rice is selling at 14½ seers a rupee.

		Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	18	Dacca May 25, '89	2·44	Weather—hot and mostly cloudy, with occasional rain. Sowing of jute and aus and amun paddy nearly completed. Prospects of standing crops promising. Crops in low lands have been damaged in parts of the district owing to the sudden rise of rivers. Good rain in Manikgunge has washed away the grubs that attacked the jute plants in places.
	19	Furreedpur „ 25, '89	1·40	Weather—cloudy and cool. Sowing of paddy almost completed; but prospects of aus not favourable owing to want of rain. Crops in low lands will probably be damaged by the early rise of the Padma.

30	Mozufferpur	" 25, '89	0·30	Strong easterly winds. Rain more or less everywhere, but very unequal—heavier at Hajipur than elsewhere. The rain will help the cultivators to prepare lands for bhadoi sowings, but more rain is required to ensure their success.

Want of moisture is operating injuriously in respect of future crops.

* Mean of 6 days. † Mean of 5 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 2[illegible] stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 24th of May 1889.

CALCUTTA, the 28*th May* 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, DURING THE WEEK ENDING 24TH OF MAY 1889.

AT the commencement of the week weather was everywhere fine, and pressure and temperature were high, but the rise of pressure, which had been going on during the latter half of the previous week, ceased and a rather rapid fall set in everywhere. It lasted the first two days, causing an almost general defect. Temperature continued high, especially in South Behar, humidity increased slightly, and showers were reported from Orissa and North Bengal. After that a general disturbance began, with irregular changes of pressure, sometimes large, and a fall of temperature in all districts except Behar and Chutia Nagpur, where a large excess existed a day or two longer than in the other districts. On Monday, the 20th, humidity was high everywhere, and rain was general in Assam, and showers fell in many parts of East, North, and South-West Bengal. Behar and Chutia Nagpur alone received no rain. Wind directions became more easterly, and continued so for several days, being generally north-easterly in North Bengal, and easterly or south-easterly elsewhere. On Tuesday pressure changes were very irregular, a rapid fall of temperature occurred in Behar, and weather became more generally disturbed, and rain fell at almost all stations, though only in a few instances did it amount to more than an inch. During the following three days similar conditions obtained, though weather was becoming less disturbed towards the end of the week, when wind directions became more normal, cloud proportion lessened, and showers were less numerous. Rapid increases and decreases of pressure, however, continued, and temperature from being largely in defect, especially in Behar, began to rise at the end of the week.

Pressure.—Pressure changes have been large throughout the week, and during the day or two when conditions were most disturbed, considerable irregularity existed. At the beginning there was an excess averaging for the whole province about a tenth of an inch, but in consequence of the rapid fall of the first two days, the only stations that reported excess pressure were a few in East and North Bengal and Assam. The variations from the normal then showed great irregularity. A rise was general on Monday, the Orissa stations only reporting slight falls. On the following day the changes were not large, but were decidedly irregular, and the difference of pressure over the province considerably increased. The rise that occurred on Wednesday in the western districts was the largest change of the week, amounting to ·15 inch in Chutia Nagpur, Behar, and parts of South-West Bengal. Pressure became again everywhere in excess, but in consequence of the large fall on the following day, a defect arose in East and North Bengal and Assam. The largest fall was ·13 inch in North Bengal. The changes on Friday were unimportant and somewhat irregular. The average pressure for the week does not differ much from the normal, being about ·02 inch in excess, and at a fair number of stations pressure is almost normal. The largest difference is in North Bengal and Assam.

Temperature.—During the first two days of the week temperature was above the normal everywhere except Assam, the excess in Behar being about 7°. When storms became general, large falls of temperature set in, and excepting Behar and Chutia Nagpur, defect existed everywhere on Monday. On Tuesday there was a rapid fall in Behar, which extended to Chutia Nagpur the next day. A large defect then existed in Behar, and kept increasing till the end of the week, when it amounted to about 12°. The defect for the other districts during the latter half of the week was three or four degrees. Temperature first fell in Assam, and on Monday was about 8° in defect; after that a rise set in, and by the end of the week there was a slight excess at Sibsagar and Silchar. The mean for the week is in defect in all districts except Chutia Nagpur. The defect is largest in Assam, amounting to nearly 3°. In Orissa, South-West and North Bengal, and South Behar it is over 1°. In East Bengal, North Behar, and Chutia Nagpur average temperature is very nearly normal. In the early part of the week maximum temperatures of over 110° were reported by several stations. The highest for the week was 113° in South Behar, and the lowest 64·8° in Assam and 65·4° in North Bengal. In Assam the mean temperature has been nearly three degrees below the normal.

Rainfall.—Showers have been fairly common every day of the week, and were general everywhere on Tuesday and Wednesday. Rain fell on Saturday only in Orissa and Assam, then extended to East and North Bengal. No rain fell in Behar till Wednesday, when there were heavy showers in North Behar; but parts of South Behar did not receive more than two or three hundredths of an inch. The heaviest rain fell in South Behar on Thursday, Patna reporting 1·7 inches. More than the normal amount has fallen in all districts except North Bengal, but there the defect is very slight. North, East, and South West Bengal received an average of more than an inch and a half, South Behar a little over one inch Orissa ·85 inch, and Chutia Nagpur ·53 inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 24th May 1889 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

APPENDIX TO

The Calcutta Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 1889.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

No. 67 Marine, dated Calcutta, the 13th May 1889.

By the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

UNDER section 10 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1859, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules for the conduct of examinations for Masters and Mates of foreign-going ships and as to the qualifications to be required. These rules are in supersession of the rules issued under the notification dated the 28th of August 1877.

Certificates granted to persons who pass examinations.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations, and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose examiners have been appointed, and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the port of Calcutta. The examinations will be held twice a quarter, or at such other times as the Government may appoint.

Examinations continued till all the Candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the Candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

Notice of application for examination to be given to the Port Officer.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate Form (Exn. 2), which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 2, properly filled in, together with the Candidate's testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer of Calcutta not later than the day before the day of examination, and the Candidate must conform to any regulations in this respect which may be laid down by the Government, as, if this be not done, delay may be occasioned.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

4. Testimonials of character, and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct on board ship for at least the twelve months of service immediately preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required of all applicants, and without producing them no person will be examined. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the Candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in together with the Form, Exn. 2, as early as possible.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

5. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners, and of British Seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the Candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country, or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case will be decided on its own merits, and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, it must be referred to the Government.

Certificates as to age.

6. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a Candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

7. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British Vessel. In the case of natives of India, who may not be able to speak English, their Certificates will be endorsed to the effect that they are only valid for vessels manned and officered entirely by Asiatics.

8. The time for which length of service as Seaman or Officer in the Mercantile Marine is to be reckoned in all cases referred to in the following paragraphs is to commence at the date when the Articles of Agreement were signed by the Applicant, and to end at the date when he was discharged as shown on the Articles of Agreement. The Certificates of Discharge will generally be sufficient evidence of this, but great care must be exercised by the Port Officer and Examiners to detect any tampering in any way with the information contained in them, and to report to the Government at once any suspicious cases.

Verification of services, &c., by Articles

9. Services, which cannot be verified by proper Entries in the Articles of the Ships in which the Candidates have served, cannot be counted. For instance, a man will state his service to have been as Second or Only Mate, and to support his assertion will produce a Certificate of Discharge or of employment by the Master, to the effect that he served as Mate, when, on reference to the Articles, it appears that he has actually been rated as Boatswain; the service in such a case will not be regarded as having been in the capacity of Mate.

10. Whenever a man has, from any cause, been regularly promoted on a vacancy in the course of the Voyage from the rank in which he first shipped, and such promotion, with the ground on which it has been made, is properly entered in the Articles and in the Official Log Book, he will of course receive credit for his service in the higher grade for the period subsequent to his promotion.

Promotion during Voyage.

11. Service in the coasting trade may be allowed to count as service, in order to qualify a Candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency for Foreign-going Ships, it being understood, however, that service in the coasting trade must amount to half as much again as service in the foreign trade, and that service in a lower grade than that of First or Only Mate in the coasting trade will not be recognised as officer's service.

Service in the coasting trade.

12. Three years' service as Mate in the coasting trade, together with at least nine months' service as Master, may be allowed to count as service for a Master's Certificate, provided the Candidates' entire service at sea calculated as above is sufficient, and that his services as Mate and Master in the coasting trade can be proved by the Articles, and provided he has already passed an examination for the Foreign Trade, unless, under special circumstances, the Government see fit to dispense with this latter provision.

13. Service in Pleasure Yachts under 80 tons, if performed within Home Trade limits, will not be accepted towards qualifying a Candidate for examination.

14. Service in Pleasure Yachts will not be accepted at all unless verified by satisfactory proofs, and it must be distinctly understood that accepted service is confined to actual sea service, service in harbour or port being inadmissible. See also para. 21.

15. Time for which Indentures of Apprenticeship are in force will be accepted as sea service, provided that the Apprentice has remained by the ship for at least four-fifths of the time covered by the Indentures, and the Indentures of the applicant are endorsed by the Owner or Master to whom he has been bound, to the effect that he has performed his service faithfully for the whole time agreed upon.

Service as an Apprentice.

16. Service as Third or Fourth Mate may be accepted as equivalent to service as Second Mate to qualify a Candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency as First Service as 3rd or 4th Mate to qualify for 1st Mate.

Mate, provided he is able to produce a satisfactory testimonial from the Master or owner of the vessel in which the service was performed, showing that he has had charge of a watch while serving as such Third or Fourth Mate, and that during the whole of the time claimed he was in possession of a Second Mate's Certificate of Competency, valid in the United Kingdom.

Service as 3rd or 4th Mate to qualify for Master.

17. Service as Third or Fourth Mate may also be accepted on the same conditions to qualify a Candidate for examination for a Master's Certificate of Competency, provided he can produce satisfactory evidence of his having served at sea 12 months as Second Mate of a Foreign-going Ship while in possession of a First Mate's Certificate of Competency, valid in the United Kingdom. If a Candidate has had no service as First Mate he must have been six and-a-half years at sea, of which two and-a-half years must have been as Mate of a lower grade under the above-named conditions. It will also be noted that occasional service in charge of a watch in the daytime will not be accepted as Mate's service under the Regulations.

Service on board a Training Ship.

18. Part of the time served on board a training ship will be allowed to count as service at sea, provided that the Candidate can produce amongst his testimonials a Certificate from the Committee that he has conducted himself creditably, and passed a good examination in seamanship so far as practised in the training ship as well as in other matters down to the time of his leaving the ship.

19. No period of service on board a training ship will be allowed to count for more than one year's sea service, nor can it be accepted as equivalent to service in square-rigged vessels.

Service in Auxiliary Screw Whaling ships.

20. Service in Auxiliary Screw Whaling Ships and other Vessels with auxiliary steam power, which use their screws only in calms or during light winds, is considered as service performed in Sailing Vessels. Such service is not to be accepted in cases where service on board Foreign-going Steam-ships is required.

Service in Trawlers, Yachts, &c.

21. Service performed in Trawlers, Yachts, &c., alone will not qualify a Candidate for examination for a Foreign-going Certificate. He must show that he has served, in addition thereto, 18 months in an ordinary trading vessel.

Service in capacities other than as Apprentice or Seaman.

22. Candidates whose services have been in capacities other than Apprentice, Ordinary Seaman, or Able Seaman, e.g., Cook, Steward, Carpenter, &c., will be required to satisfy the Port Officer that they have a good knowledge of Seamanship. This may possibly be proved by the production of satisfactory Certificates from Masters with whom the Applicants have served. Failing satisfactory evidence, the Applicant may be required to perform additional service, which must be in the capacity of Ordinary Seaman or Able Seaman.

23. Service performed on rivers, no matter of what size, or in smooth-water or partially smooth-water cannot be accepted.

Service on rivers and in smooth-waters.

24. A person who has lost the sight of one eye cannot be allowed to be examined for a Certificate of Competency. If he already holds a Certificate, he will not be allowed to be examined for a Certificate of a higher grade.

Loss of sight.

25. Service in Light Ships or in an Engine-room will not be accepted as sea service for a Master's or Mate's Certificate of Competency.

Service in Light Ships and Engine-room.

26. In the case of service on board Excursion Steamers only such service as has been performed actually at sea can be accepted.

27. A First Class Pilot, with one year's Sea Service since he obtained his Pilot's Certificate, may be examined for a First Mate's Certificate for Foreign-going Ships. A Hooghly Master Pilot is for the purpose of this rule to be considerd a First Class Pilot.

28. Half the amount of service performed as an Apprentice in a Pilot Vessel propelled by sails may count as actual Sea—Service to qualify for examination for a Certificate of Competency.

Services as Pilot's Apprentice.

29. Candidates who have neglected to join their vessels after having signed Articles, or who have deserted their vessels after having joined, or who have been found guilty of gross misconduct on board, will be required to produce satisfactory proofs of two years' subsequent service and good conduct at sea, unless the Local Government after having investigated the matter should see fit to reduce the time.

Desertion and gross misconduct.

30. If after a Candidate has passed his Examination it is discovered on further investigation, e.g., by verification on the part of the Port Officer, that his services are insufficient to entitle him to receive a Certificate of the grade for which he has passed, it will not be granted to him; but if the Government is satisfied that the error in the calculation of his services did not occur through any fault or wilful misrepresentation on his part, he will be allowed to go up for re-examination without payment of further fee when he has performed the amount of service in which he was deficient.

If after passing examination services are found to have been insufficient.

31. If, in such a case, the applicant's services are sufficient to entitle him to receive a Certificate of a lower grade, provided as aforesaid he has not wilfully misrepresented the amount of his services, an Inferior Certificate may be granted to him, and the difference, if any, between the fee paid by him for the Superior Certificate and the fee payable for the Inferior Certificate, may be placed to his credit.

Certificate of a lower grade may be granted on certain conditions.

32. In such a case when the applicant has by further service made up the amount in which he was found to be short, he must, before he can receive the higher Certificate, be re-examined in all the subjects.

Must be re-examined for certificate of higher grade.

Colour Tests.

33. The Government have made the following arrangements for the Examination of persons as to their ability to distinguish Colours :—*

34. Examinations in Colour are open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine.

35. Any person, including the holders of Certificate of Competency, or persons about to apply for Certificates of Competency, if desirous of being examined in colours only, must make application to the Port Officer on Form Exn. 2ᵃ, and pay a fee of one rupee.

36. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office; and if he passes he will receive a Certificate to that effect.

37. If he fails it will be open to him to be examined again in Colours as often as he pleases on payment of the fee of one rupee at each fresh attempt.

38. The application of a Candidate who is presenting himself for Examination for a Master's or Mate's Certificate must be made on Form Exn. 2.—Such examination will commence with the Colour test; and if the Candidate does not, at the time of making application, hold a Certificate of Competency of any grade, and should fail to distinguish correctly any one of the colours used in the test, he will not be allowed to proceed with the examination in Navigation and Seamanship.

39. The fee he has paid for Examination for a Certificate of Competency will include the fee for the Colour test, and, with the exception of one rupee, will, in such event, be returned to him.

40. A Candidate for Examination for a Certificate of Competency who, at the time of making application, does not possess a Certificate, and who fails to pass the colour test, may not be re-examined until after the lapse of three months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another three months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

41. It is therefore obviously to the advantage of Candidates for Certificates of Competency to apply in the first instance to be examined in Colours only on Form 2ᵃ.

42. A Candidate who holds a Certificate of Competency, and who, on presenting himself for Examination for a Certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the Colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed with the Examination in Navigation and Seamanship for the Certificate of the higher grade.

* See Appendix L.

43. Should he pass this Examination the following statement will be written on the face of the higher Certificate which may be granted to him, viz.: "This officer has failed to pass the 'Examination in Colours.'"

44. Should he ultimately fail to pass the Examination in Navigation and Seamanship a like statement, relating to his being Colour blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing Certificate before it is returned to him.

45. Holders of Certificates which bear the statement of their having failed to pass in Colours, and who may desire to have the statement removed from their Certificates, must obtain the special permission of the Government.

Qualifications for Certificates of Competency for a "Foreign-going Ship."

Foreign-going Sailing Ships.

46. Examination in Colours.—All Candidates for Certificates of Competency must first be examined in colours.*

Second Mate.

47. A SECOND MATE must be not less than seventeen years of age, and must have been four years at sea. He must also prove that he has served at least one year in a square-rigged sailing vessel within the last five years. See also para. 11.

On and after the 1st June 1889, no Candidate will be allowed to be examined unless he has served at sea two years within the last six years, and six months within the last three years immediately preceding the date of his application to be examined.

Any cases not coming within the above conditions must be submitted for the special consideration of the Government before the Candidate is allowed to be examined.

48. In Navigation, &c.—He must write a legible hand, and will be required to give in writing, vide supplementary vivâ voce test, page 37, definitions of various astronomical and other terms used in navigation.† He must have a competent knowledge of the first five rules of arithmetic, and the use of logarithms. He must be able to work a day's work complete, correcting the courses for deviation, leeway, and variation. He will be required to find the latitude by meridian altitude of the sun, and the difference of longitude from a given departure by parallel sailing; also to find the course and distance from one position to another by Mercator's method. He will be required to find the time of high water at a given port, to observe and calculate the amplitude of the sun, and to find the error of the ship's compass therefrom, and also the deviation, the variation being given. He must be able to find the daily rate of the chronometer from error observed, and to find the longitude from altitude of the sun by the usual methods. He must understand the use of the sextant, with its adjustments, and be able to observe with it, find the index error by the horizon, and read off and on the arc.* He must also pass a satisfactory examination in the International Code of Signals.†

Service in Royal Navy.

Service in Royal Navy.

72. Officers of the Royal Navy are at liberty to apply for Certificates of service and to be examined for Certificates of Competency in the Mercantile Marine, but they must submit their applications in the manner directed by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

73 Officers of the Royal Navy desirous of being examined for Certificates of Competency in the Mercantile Marine will be required to prove the following service, of which twelve months must have been sea service under sail alone.

74. For Second Mate.—A Candidate must produce satisfactory evidence of four years' service at sea, or that he has attained the rank of acting Sub-Lieutenant.

75. For Only Mate.—A Candidate must prove five years' service at sea.

76. For First Mate or Masters.—A Candidate must show that he has attained the rank of Sub-Lieutenant, or Navigating Sub-Lieutenant.

Voluntary Examination in the Laws of the Deviation of the Compasses of Iron Ships.

Voluntary Examination of Masters and Mates in the Syllabus.

77. Any Master or Mate who wishes to pass a voluntary examination in the Syllabus* of examination on the Laws of the Deviation of the Compasses of an Iron Ship, &c., can at any time be examined upon filling up the form of application, and the payment to the Port Officer of the prescribed fee. If the candidate passes the examination successfully, an endorsement to that effect will be duly made upon the Master's or Mate's Certificate held by him.

Failure.

Re-examination in case of failure.

78. In all cases of failure the Candidate must be examined de novo. If a Candidate fails in Seamanship he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of SIX MONTHS. Whether the whole or part of this period must be served at sea must depend upon the subjects in Seamanship in which the Candidate failed, but what amount (if any) of sea service will be required will be left to the discretion of the Port Officer, subject, however, to revision by the Government, should they see fit.

* See Appendix II

79. The Examiners in making out their report on Form Exn. 14 should state what amount (if any) of further sea service the Candidate must perform, and they should also insert this information under Division H. in Form Exn. 2.*

80. If he fails three times in Navigation he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of THREE MONTHS from the date of the last failure.

Certificate of lower grade.

81. If a Candidate has failed in his Examination, but the subjects in which he has failed are not included in the subjects required for a Certificate of a lower grade, he may, if he desires it, receive a Certificate of such lower grade.

82. No part, however, of the fee he has paid will be returned to him, and on presenting himself, when entitled, for re-examination for the higher grade of Certificate he will be required to pay a further full fee.

83. If a Candidate fails for bad spelling or writing, he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of at least three months.

84. If a Candidate fails in his examination for an ordinary Certificate, he may, if qualified, and upon payment of another fee, &c., be examined for a Certificate of Competency for Foreign-going Steam-ships without waiting the usual time after failure.

Fees.

85. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 2, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken, whether by enquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. Should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or should their testimonials be unsatisfactory, or should they from any other cause, except failure to pass the colour tests, not be examined, no part of the fee will be returned to them, but when they have fulfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be, they will be allowed to again present themselves for examination for a Certificate of the same grade without paying any further fee.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination, s. 133.

86. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a Candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port office, the Candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected, and not allowed to be again examined for twelve months.

87. If a Candidate fail in his examination no part of the fee will be returned to him.

GENERAL.

89. Certificates of Competency shall be made and issued by the Government in the forms hereunto annexed.

90. Every Certificate of Competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the Certificate and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

General Instructions to Examiners and Candidates.

91. All instruments necessary for use in the examinations are supplied by the Government.

Prohibited books and papers.

92. Before commencing the examination, the tables or desks must be cleared of all scraps of paper, or books that are not used in the examination, and care should be taken that the candidates do not bring into the examination room any book, paper, document, or memoranda of any description whatever. No person whatever should be allowed in the room during the time of examination, but those whose duties require them to be present.

93. No instructors will be allowed on the premises.

94. Candidates will under no pretence whatever be allowed to leave the premises while the examination is proceeding. If a Candidate has occasion to visit the retiring room he will only be allowed to do so on the completion of the paper on which he may be engaged, when he will be required to enter in a book, kept for the purpose, the exact time of his leaving and returning to the examination room. When only a few Candidates are under examination, two persons will not be allowed to leave the room at the same time.

Candidates not to leave premises during examination.

95. Candidates should be so placed as to prevent one copying from the other, and no communication whatever between the Candidates should be allowed.

Position of Candidates at examination.

96. If any blotting paper is allowed it should be black; and when the first examination paper is issued each Candidate should be furnished with a piece which should be returned to the Examiner upon the completion of the last paper.

Blotting paper.

97. The examination papers should be issued to the Candidates in half sheets only, and one at a time. This will prevent a Candidate from spreading out the sheets on the table in an apparently careless manner, but so as to enable his nearest neighbour to look over and copy, or examine the problems. It will also enable the Examiner to look over and report upon the work on one half sheet, while the Candidate is at work upon another, and so on. When the errors are not too numerous, or when they are not from ignorance of the subject, the incorrect problems may be returned to the Candidate for correction, but in no case should the errors be pointed out by the Examiner, neither should any marks be made on the correct work of the problem, which would at once indicate how far or to what extent the work is correct. Should the problems be returned to the Examiner the second time incorrect, this would be a failure; and as the time allowed is considered ample for working out the papers carefully, this rule is expected to be strictly observed.

How examination papers should be issued.

98. When from the large number of the Candidates, it may be found impossible to look over the work, on the day of examination during the office hours, an hour in the morning of the following day may be allotted for the purpose of correcting the problems, but in no case should a Candidate have his problem returned to him for correction after he has made the second attempt.

In certain cases problems may be corrected on morning following examination day.

99. The paper (Exn. 4A) is only for those Candidates who present themselves for examination for the first time. It is intended not only to ensure on the part of the Candidate a knowledge of the meaning of a variety of terms of great use to the Navigator respecting which much ignorance exists at present, but at the same time to test his handwriting and spelling.

100. In using this paper, the Examiner will place a mark against the numbers of the particular questions which he selects for answers, and not less than ten questions should be selected. The Candidate will then write against the questions so marked his definition of the terms in a clear and legible hand, so as to prevent the possibility of any letter being mistaken. Attention should be paid to the spelling and writing of all grades of Candidates. The supplementary vivâ voce test should also be applied as usual.

Re-questions on Deviation of the Compass. (Exn. 7, Appendix G.)

101. In the questions on Deviation of the Compass (Exn. 7, Appendix G) the Examiner should indicate by a mark against at least twelve of the questions for answers, and those indicated must be correctly answered. The selected questions should be varied frequently, and no two Candidates should have precisely the same questions. The Candidate should be furnished with sheets of blank ruled paper which is supplied for that purpose with instructions that he is to write only on one side of the paper, and to answer each of the questions against which a mark is placed in a clear and legible hand, and to commence each answer by writing down the number of the question to which it relates in the margin left for that purpose. In answering question 19, besides giving a full explanation in writing, of the tentative method* of compass adjustment (accompanied by the usual supplementary vivâ voce test), the Candidates should be required to illustrate by diagrams how the poles of the magnets are placed with regard to the compass needle for correcting the semi-circular deviation, as well as the heeling error, and also how the soft iron should be placed for correcting the quadrantal deviation, or the Candidate may be tested by "Beall's Compass Deviascope," in which case it will not be necessary for him to give the written answer and sketches.

Vivâ voce examination.

102. In the vivâ voce examination a reasonable time should be allowed for the Candidate to give his answers. No assistance should be given or leading question put.

Adjustment of sextant.

103. Particular attention should be paid to the adjustments of the sextant, and the written answers should be given on the ruled paper in the same manner as the answers to the questions on Exn. 7, and the supplementary vivâ voce test applied as usual. Every Candidate should have a practical knowledge of what is known as the first three adjustments, and be able to read correctly off the arc, a supposed index error to be given by the Examiner as additive, as well as reading on the arc in the usual way.

---

* See Appendix M.

104. All outstanding or minor corrections should appear in the margin of each problem paper; also on the chart papers Exn. 9C and Exn. 9D; and unless all these corrections appear on the papers of the Candidate they will not be considered complete.

Minor corrections.

105. In every case the Examination, whether for Only Mate, First Mate, or Master, is to commence with the problems for Second Mate.

Examination to commence with that for Second Mate.

106. Examiners should bear in mind that the problems to be performed are required as tests, and for the purposes of an Examination, and not for sea-going or practical purposes alone.

Problems required as tests.

107. The Candidates will be allowed to work out the various problems according to the method and the tables they have been accustomed to use.

Time allowed for Problems and Writings.

108. Candidates for Second Mates' Certificates of Competency must complete the whole of their Examination in Navigation in eight hours, including the time allowed for writing the definitions (Exn. 4*a*), the paper on the adjustment of the sextant, and the correction of all errors and oversights; but the nautical problems on Forms "Exn. 4" and "Exn. 5" must be completed within six hours, and without the Candidates leaving the premises during that period.

Time allowed for working problems.

109. Candidates for Only and First Mates' Certificates must complete the whole of their examination in Navigation in twelve and-a-half hours,* including the time allowed for the papers on the sextant; the chart; cyclones or revolving storms; and for the correction of all errors and oversights; but the nautical problems on Forms "Exn. 4," "Exn. 5," and "Exn. 6" must be completed within six hours, and without the Candidates leaving the premises during that period.

110. Candidates for Certificates as Masters,' Ordinary, must complete the whole of their examination in Navigation in fifteen hours; including the time allowed for the papers on the sextant; the chart; compass deviation; cyclones or revolving storms; and for the correction of all errors and oversights; but the problems on Forms "Exn. 4," "Exn. 5," and "Exn. 6," must be completed within six hours, and without the Candidates leaving the premises during that period.

111. Candidates after finishing the problems required of the respective grades on the first day of examination should proceed, until the end of that day, with such subjects as the definitions, sextant, chart, and Question 19 of Form "Exn. 7."

* A Candidate other than Second Mate who may not previously have passed an examination may be allowed the time occupied in writing his definitions on Exn. 4*a*, in addition to the above.

112. The Sumner Problem (Exn. 6a) must on no account be given out to any of the grades on the first day of the examination, but should be the commencement of the Candidate's work on the second day, and on completion of this problem the Candidates for Masters' Certificates should proceed with the problems on paper "Exn. 7."

113. Candidates for Foreign-going Steam-ship Certificates of Competency will be allowed the same amount of time to perform their navigation, &c., as hereinbefore laid down for the respective grades for the Ordinary Foreign-going Certificates.

114. Deviation of the Compass.—A period not exceeding eleven hours will be allowed to Candidates for the completion of the whole of the examination in the Syllabus, including the correction of all errors and oversights in both the problems and writings.

Additional time allowed in special cases.

115. Punctually at the expiration of the prescribed time all the papers should be called up, whether completed or not, and if not completed, the Candidate will be declared to have failed, unless the Port Officer or the Examiner see fit to lengthen the period in any special case. If, however, the period is lengthened in any case, the special circumstances of that case, and the reasons for lenthening the period, together with the time allowed, must be reported to the Government by the Examiners, in the column for "remarks" on the Form Exn. 14. It should be noted that the periods prescribed in the foregoing paragraphs are not intended to include the time occupied by the vivâ voce part of the examination.

116. It is anticipated that but few of the Candidates for Certificates of Competency for any of the foregoing grades will require the whole of the time herein allowed for completing their Examination in Navigation; and ample time has been prescribed, so that Candidates may perform their work in a careful, clear, and legible manner, and to the entire satisfaction of the Examiners.

Degree of Precision required in the Solution of the Problems.

117. In order to prevent any misapprehension as to the degree of precision required by the Regulations in working out the various problems in the Examinations for Masters' and Mates' Certificates, the attention of Examiners and Candidates is particularly directed to the following Instructions:—

(a.) Candidates are expected to work out their answers to all problems within or not to exceed a margin of one mile of position from a correct result (e.g., in problems where the answer required is a latitude, longitude, or distance), excepting in finding the ship's position by "Sumner's" method, where a margin of 2½ miles will be allowed.

(b.) In such problems as the "Amplitude" and "Alt-Azimuth," where the bearings, deviations, &c., only are required, a margin of 2′, or 3′, from a correct result will be sufficiently accurate.

(c.) In no problem is the Candidate for an "ordinary" Certificate required by the Regulations to correct for second differences in taking out the quantities from the Nautical Almanac.

(d.) In solving the "Time Azimuth" problem, an answer not exceeding half a degree from the exact result will be sufficiently near. But in all cases the actual latitude, declination, and time used, together with the exact bearing (from the North or South) as given in the tables, must be clearly shown by the Candidate on his papers.

(e.) In interpolating for the correct deviation to be applied in solving the Chart question, Papers "Exn. 9 C." and "Exn. 9 D," it will usually be sufficiently near if the Candidate works throughout with the nearest degree of deviation taken from the "Deviation Card," and even in cases where the deviations may vary but little, the nearest half degree used throughout will be sufficiently precise, and will at the same time prove whether the Candidate understands the method of arriving at the amount of, and applying, deviations. It is not necessary that the Candidate should waste his time in solving the course to odd minutes as is sometimes done.

(f.) In calculating the correction to apply to the Soundings; Question 5 of Paper "Exn. 9 D," the Candidate is not required to work out to the exact inch, as is sometimes done. It will be sufficiently near if he brings his answer within half a foot or so of a precise result.

It must be clearly understood in reading the foregoing Instructions that it is always provided the work of the Candidate is correct in principle.

Supplementary vivâ voce Examination on written Papers.

118. An impression prevails in regard to the examination of Masters and Mates, that so long as a Candidate can commit to paper correct answers to the various questions requiring written answers (e.g., Forms Exn. 4*a*, Exn. 7, Exn. 9*a*, Exn. 9*c*, Exn. 32, 70, &c.), no matter how indicative the answers may be of their having been learnt off by rote only, the duty and responsibility of the Examiners are at an end, and that they have no power or authority to reject a Candidate should his written answers be correct.

119. Lest, therefore, such an impression should prevail, Candidates for Certificates of Competency should bear in mind that they are not only expected to give correct written answers, which may merely be learnt off by rote, but they are expected to possess an intelligent knowledge of the various subjects prescibed in the Regulations, particularly as regards the important subject of the Deviation of the Compass.

120. This result may be easily attained by the Examiner putting a few vivâ voce questions to the Candidate as the papers are brought up for inspection, or at any subsequent time if more convenient. The oral questions (suggested by the printed questions and the answers given) should be such that the Examiner may satisfy himself that the candidate possesses a real knowledge of what he has written, and should be confined strictly to the subjects of the printed questions. Should the candidate then exhibit ignorance of the subjects, the Examiner (who is in a position to judge of the real knowledge the man before him possesses) should deal with him at his discretion, notwithstanding that the candidate may have written all the answers correctly by rote.

121. When an Examiner finds it necessary to fail a Candidate in this supplementary vivâ voce test, a memorandum containing the particulars of the points on which the candidate was ignorant, i.e., the identical questions and the identical answers given, must in each case be attached to his examination papers, when forwarded in the usual course to the Port Officer, or the particulars may be set forth by the Examiner in the margins of the candidate's papers in red ink.

Form Exn. 16. Completion of examination.

122. If the Candidate passes, he will receive the Form Exn. 16, upon which the Government, will issue the Certificate to the candidate, whose testimonials, &c., will be returned at the same time.

Special Notice to Candidates.

123. The attention of Candidates is specially called to the following Regulations :—

124. Candidates are required to appear at the examination-room punctually at the time appointed.

125. Candidates are prohibited from bringing into the examination-room books, paper, or memoranda of any kind whatever. The slightest infringement of this regulation will subject the offender to all the penalties of a failure, and he will not be allowed to present himself for re-examination for a period of three months.

126. In the event of any Candidate being detected in defacing, blotting, writing in, or otherwise injuring any book or books belonging to the Government, the papers of such Candidate will be detained until the book or books so defaced be replaced by him. He will not, however, be at liberty to remove the damaged book, which will still remain the property of the Government.

127. In the event of any Candidate being discovered referring to any book or memoranda, copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another, during the time of examination or copying any part of the problems for the purpose of taking out of the Examination rooms, he will subject himself to all the penalties of a failure, and he will not be allowed to be examined for a period of six months.

128. No Candidate will be allowed to work out his problems on a slate or on waste paper.

129. No Candidate will be permitted to leave the room until he has given up the paper on which he is engaged.

130. Candidates will find it more convenient, both here and at sea, to correct the declination and other elements from the Nautical Almanac by the "hourly differences," which have been given in that work in order to facilitate such calculations; they will thereby render themselves independent of any proportional or logarithmic table for such purpose.

131. The corrections by inspection from tables given in some of the works on Navigation will not be allowed (see Tables IX, XI and XXI in Norie's Epitome, &c.); every correction must appear on the papers of the Candidates.

132. Any candidate who may be guilty of insolence to the Examiner or of other misconduct will render himself liable to the postponement of his examination, or, if he has passed, to the detention of his Certificate for such period as the Government may direct.

133. For rules as to amount of time allowed to perform the work, see page 36.

Masters' and Mates' Voluntary Examinations in Steam.

Voluntary Examinations in Steam.

134. These examinations are limited to Masters and First or Only Mates who are possessed of or entitled to Certificates of Competency, and are provided for the purpose of giving them an opportunity of undergoing a voluntary examination as to their practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam engine. They are conducted under the superintendence of the Port Officer at such times as they may appoint for the purpose; and the Examiners are selected by the Government from the Engineer-Surveyors appointed under the Indian Steam Ships Act, 1884.

Application, how to be made. Exn. 2.

135. Any Master or Mate desiring to be examined in Steam must deliver to the Port Officer a statement in writing to that effect, upon the Form of Application (Exn. 2.), and the applicant's Certificate of Competency must be delivered to the Port Officer along with his statement. If he is about to pass an examination for a Certificate of Competency at the same time, the applications should be sent in together.

Fee to be paid. Conduct of examination, &c.

136. A fee of Rs. 12 must be paid by the applicant for the examination in Steam, and the Port Officer will thereupon inform him of the time and place at which he is to attend to be examined, and the examination will then and there proceed in the same manner as the other examinations. If the applicant fails, and has given in his Certificate, it will be at once returned to him.

Record of Certificate. Exn. 14.

137. If the applicant passes, the Report (Exn. 14.) and the Certificate of Competency with the Form (Exn. 2.) will be sent to the Government; the words "Passed in Steam," with the date and place of examination, will then be entered on the Certificate and its counterpart, and the Certificate will be sent to the Port Officer to be delivered to the applicant in the usual manner.

Failure.

138. If the applicant fails he may not present himself for re-examination until the expiration of three months from the date of failure.

Extent of examination.

139. The examination is for the most part vivâ voce, and extends to a general knowledge of the practical use and working of the steam engine, and of the various valves, fittings, and pieces of machinery connected with it. Intricate theoritical questions on calculations of horse-power or areas of cylinders and valves, or any of the more difficult questions which appertain to steam engines and boilers, will not be asked. The examination will in fact be confined to what a Master of a steam-vessel may be called upon to perform in the case of the death, incapacity, or delinquency of the engineer.

140. Examiners are to be careful in their examinations to satisfy themselves that applicants really do know the names and uses of the various parts of engines and boilers, and their connecting pipes, valves, cocks, &c. Practical knowledge, as distinguished from theories, abstruse calculations, and book learning, is to be the test of the applicant's fitness to have his Certificate indorsed.

Where examination to be conducted.

141. The Examiner should arrange to conduct part of the examination in the engine-room of a Steam-ship, unless from circumstances he finds it impossible to do so; and if an oppportuuity offer the applicant should be permitted, under the guidance of the Examiner, to start and stop the engine of some vessel which may have her steam up.

142. The Examiner, in sending in his report of examinations of Masters and Mates in steam, should state where the examination has been held.

143. Candidates will be required to give written answers to sixteen out of twenty questions taken from a book of Elementary Questions pulished by the Government.* These questions will be altered from time to time without notice. The twenty questions are not to be difficult, theoretical, or book questions, but are to be such as any man of ordinary capacity ought to answer who has any "practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam-engine."

Examination in elementary questions.

144. These questions, with the Candidate's answers, should be sent to the Government, with the reports, after each examination.

Answers to be sent to the Board of Trade.

145. These answers will also assist in enabling the Government to decide any question that may hereafter arise in cases where it is alleged that applicants have been improperly passed, or improperly rejected.

146. The Examiners will be careful that if any Candidate refers to any book or paper or memorandum, or obtains information from another Candidate during the examination, he will be treated as having failed, will forfeit his fee, and will not be allowed to be re-examined for a period of three months.

Candidates referring to books, &c., to be put down as failed.

147. The Examiners will report in the case of failure, the nature of the question or questions that decided the failure, or the point in the management of the engine in which the Candidate was deficient.

In cases of failure Examiner to report questions that decided it.

148. There is nothing in the Regulations requiring that applicants for the voluntary examination shall have served on board Steam-Ships; all that is required is that they shall have a "practical knowledge." Examiners will, of course, not fail to appreciate the fact, when passing applicants, that practical knowledge is best gained in the engine-room; and the examination of an Officer who does not produce officiel evidence of service in Steam Ships, and of experience of engines, must necessarily be more searching than in the case of one who produces evidence of such service and experience.

Service on board Steam-Ship unnecessary.

P. NOLAN,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES.

1. Every agent shall provide sufficient and proper accommodation in a suitable place for such emigrants as may be collected by him pending their removal to a labour district.

2. The Magistrate of a district or of a division of a district, or a Magistrate subordinate to him, or an Officer of Police above the rank of Sub-Inspector authorized by him in this behalf, shall visit and inspect such accommodation, and all agents and other persons in charge of such places shall afford to such Magistrate or Officer of Police every facility for making such visits and inspections.

3. It shall be the duty of the District Magistrate to see that every place used for the accommodation of emigrants is regularly and thoroughly inspected by an officer authorized in that behalf.

4. The sanitary arrangements in such places shall be regulated generally by the rules prescribed under Act I of 1882 for depôts, subject to such modification as the Magistrate of the district may consider necessary where the accommodation provided is for a small number of occupants, or is for temporary use only.

5. The agent shall be bound to carry out any order given by the District Magistrate for the purpose of securing compliance with the rules for depôts referred to in the foregoing article.

6. An agent shall either himself accompany the emigrants engaged or assisted by him throughout their journey to the labour districts, or shall send with them some competent person.

7. When the number of emigrants (exclusive of dependents) proceeding on their journey to a labour district is more than twenty, for every twenty emigrants so in excess, or for any number of emigrants less than twenty in excess, one additional agent, or person appointed by him, shall accompany the emigrants so proceeding.

8. Every agent, or person appointed by him as aforesaid, who accompanies emigrants to the labour districts shall provide such emigrants and their dependents (if any) with proper and sufficient food and lodging throughout the journey.

9. The agent, or person appointed as aforesaid, must take every care of the emigrants during the journey. He must give them a cooked meal before they start; and if the journey is likely to occupy more than six hours, he must distribute biscuits and sugar in the proportion of two biscuits and one ounce of sugar to each emigrant of, and above, ten years of age, and one biscuit and half an ounce of sugar to each emigrant under the age of ten years; and if more than eight hours, dry provision must be supplied, such as choora, suttu, and the like, in such quantity as may be determined by the Superintendent of Emigration or other authorized officer. It must be seen that the clothing provided is worn by the emigrants whenever the weather renders such a precaution necessary. At the close of every day's march, or of a train journey, the emigrants must be properly housed, and provided with a cooked meal and wholesome supply of water for drinking and ablution purposes.

10. Any Magistrate or any Embarkation Agent may, if himself a medical man, examine, and if not himself a medical man, send for examination by a medical man, any emigrant or dependent who, while on the journey to the labour district to which he intends to proceed, appears to such Magistrate or Embarkation Agent not to be in a fit state of health to proceed thereto.

11. If such emigrant or dependent is on such examination declared not to be in a fit state of health to undertake the journey to the labour district to which he intends to proceed, the Magistrate or Embarkation Agent may order him to be detained at such place as he thinks fit until the emigrant or dependent is in a fit state of health to undertake such journey, when he shall either be forwarded to such district or sent back to the place from which he came according as the agent or person appointed by him accompanying such labourer or dependent may direct.

While any emigrant or dependent is so detained, he shall be entitled to be fed, lodged, clothed and (if necessary) medically treated at the cost of the agent.

12. When an order under Rule 11 has been made with reference to any emigrant, any person dependent upon, and any labourer being the wife or husband of such emigrant, shall be entitled—

(a) until such emigrant is in a fit state of health to undertake such journey, to be fed, lodged, clothed and (if necessary) medically treated at the place where such emigrant is detained and at the cost of the agent.

(b) if such emigrant is sent back to the place from which he came, to be sent back to such place at the cost of the agent.

When any such order has been made with reference to any dependent, the emigrant to whom he is attached shall thereupon, until such dependent is in a fit state of health to undertake the journey to the labour district, be entitled, if the emigrant so wishes, and if he, or she, be the husband, wife, son, or daughter of such dependent, to be fed, lodged, clothed, and (if necessary) medically treated at the place where such dependent is detained and at the cost of the agent; and if such dependent is sent back to the place from which he came, such emigrant shall, if he or she so wishes, and if he or she be the husband, wife, son, or daughter of such dependent, be sent back to such place.

If such emigrant is entitled and claims to be so fed, lodged, clothed, and (if necessary) medically treated, or to be so sent back, his or her dependents, and any other emigrant being the wife or husband of such emigrant, shall be entitled as the case may be—

(a) to be fed, lodged, clothed, and (if necessary) medically treated at the place where such dependent is detained and at the cost of such agent until such dependent is in a fit state of health to undertake the journey to the labour district, or

(b) to be sent back to the place from which he or she came at the cost of the agent.

13. If the agent or person appointed by him accompanying any emigrant or dependent fails to provide such emigrant or dependent with food, lodging, clothing and medical treatment, or to send him back as required by Rule 11 or Rule 12, the Magistrate or Embarkation Agent may order such agent or person to pay such sum as is necessary to provide such food, lodging, clothing, and medical treatment, or to defray the cost of the return journey of such emigrant or dependent, as the case may be, to the place from which he came, and, on failure for twenty-four hours of such agent or person to comply with such order, he may pay the sum specified in the order to or on behalf of such emigrant or dependent.

14. In the event of an emigrant or dependent dying on the journey to the labour district, the agent shall arrange promptly for the disposal of the dead body in a suitable manner. If he fails to do so, the District Magistrate, or any one appointed by the District Magistrate in that behalf, may dispose of the dead body, and the cost shall be recoverable from the agent.

15. If an emigrant or dependent is attacked by cholera, small-pox, or other dangerous communicable disease, he shall, on recovery, be supplied with clothing by the agent on the scale provided in the case of contractors' labourers by the rules made under Act I of 1882. If he fails to do so, the Magistrate of the district, or any one appointed by him in that behalf, may supply such clothing, and the costs shall be recoverable from the agent.

16. Whoever commits a breach of any of the above rules shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

17. Any money recoverable from an agent under clauses 13, 14, or 15 of these rules shall be realizable as arrears of revenue.

Intended alteration of Savage Island Light—Port of Akyab.

THE Port Officer, Rangoon, through Commander Alfred Carpenter, R.N., in charge Marine Survey of India, has given notice that it is intended to alter both the height and character of the Savage Island light at the entrance of the Port of Akyab, on the coast of Arracan, by raising the present tower 20 feet, and substituting a 1st class light for the present 3rd class one.

The alterations will be taken in hand at the commencement of the next cold season.

During the alterations the present light will be exhibited from a temporary wooden structure close to and to the southward of the present Light-house, and of the same height, that is, 98 feet above H. W. level.

The transferring of the present light from the present structure to the temporary wooden one will take some days, and during this time a blue light will be burnt from the foot of the present structure every quarter of an hour from sunset to sunrise.

As the present light, when removed to the temporary structure, will be obscured to the northward by the permanent Light-house, a white light will be hoisted on the flagstaff at Fakir Point, as a guide to vessels entering and leaving the port at night. The new light will be a first class dioptric one, fixed and flashing at intervals of one minute, exhibited from a masonry tower at a height of 118 feet above H. W. level, and visible on a clear night at a distance of 16 to 18 miles. Its arc of visibility will be the same as the present light, viz., 264° from seaward.

THE following information has been received through Commander Alfred Carpenter, R.N., in charge Marine Survey of India:—

Karwar.—The Port Officer of Karwar has given notice that the Karwar Rock Buoy has been removed and will not be replaced. Two large boulders on the west side of Karwar Head have been white-washed, and the lower boulder of the two has a vertical red stripe.

When these two marks are in line, they indicate the direction of the rock.

ANDAMAN ISLANDS.

Regarding Little Andaman, Jane's Patch and Diligent Straits.

THE following information has been received from Commander Alfred Carpenter, R.N., in charge of the Marine Survey of India:—

Little Andaman.—The bank off the S. W. Point of this Island has now been thoroughly examined. There are some rocky ridges in the centre, partly overgrown with weed, with as little as 5½ fathoms over them. In the S. W. monsoon the rollers on the bank are probably dangerous. The shoal centre lies in latitude 10° 31′ N., longitude 92° 13′ E.

Jane's Patch—marked on charts of the Andaman Islands in latitude 12° 9′ N., longitude 93° 12′ E., does not exist; but Minerva Ledge is in its correct position.

Diligent Straits.—These straits having been thoroughly surveyed are found to be free from danger, except between Strait Island and Wilson Island (formerly called Round Hill Point). The dangers in this portion may be avoided by keeping South Button Island, just touching the north point of Outram Island, on a bearing of N. E. ¾ E. South Button Island may be passed close to on its northern side. There is a two-fathom patch one mile north of the N. W. point of Wilson Island (or Round Hill.)

See Admiralty charts 825, 830, 70, and Bay of Bengal Pilot, pages 255, 262, 263.

Bearings are magnetic.

DISTRESS IN THE PATNA DIVISION.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Darjeeling, the 29th May, 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A report from the Commissioner of Patna, No. 260G—F, dated 22nd May, 1889, on the condition of the people and prospects of the crops in his division during the fortnight ending 22nd May, 1889.

Ordinary agricultural operations were checked during the fortnight by intense heat and drought; the subsidiary crop of cheena crop, which was up to the average in Shahabad, failed in Mozufferpore and Chumparun; the want of water was much felt in the latter district, and prices were slightly enhanced beyond the high rate to which they had previously risen. The conditions were, therefore, as unfavourable as could have been anticipated. But the attendance at the relief works, which is now a little less than thirty-two thousand, has not very greatly increased: in Durbhunga, for instance, it rose from 10,241 to 11,668. There has been nothing like the rush of large bodies for work which characterises the crisis of a famine. Telegraphic advice has since been received as to the effect that the opportune rain which fell, though not in large quantities after the close of the fortnight, has benefited crops on the ground, made the preparation of land easier, and slightly improved the general prospect. It is hoped that in the districts south of the Ganges at least the change in the weather will have caused a very marked improvement in prospects.

The Lieutenant-Governor notices with approval the increase in the rate paid on the Mozufferpore relief works, so as to adjust wages to rising prices, on the principle laid down in the Famine Code; as also the caution given by the Commissioner not to raise rates so as to tempt away labourers from necessary field work when rain falls. A sum of Rs 20,000 has been granted since the close of the fortnight for roads in this district outside the area previously classified as distressed. With reference to the remark that only four roads of those at present dealt with will afford work after 15th June, the Commissioner's attention is directed to the Chief Engineer's estimate made at the commencement of relief operations, which provided road work for 32,752 people at the rate now accepted of 50 cubic feet per man. If this programme be carried out, there will be work in Mozufferpore for numbers much greater than have been employed hitherto.

In Chumparun only have any signs of depletion been observed in the local markets, and even as to that district it is stated that the supplies are still sufficient.

The report states that it has been decided that on completion of the repairs now in hand, no further relief will be afforded on road works in Durbhunga. future operations being confined to tanks. On this subject the Commissioner will be requested to report separately, as the grounds for the decision arrived at are not understood. It was found convenient, when Sir Steuart Bayley visited the district, to carry on road and tank work simultaneously, and as the rains approach, the objection to relying solely on tank-digging must apparently increase.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 260G—F, dated Bankipore, the 22nd May 1889.

From—JOHN BOXWELL, ESQ., Offg. Commissioner of the Patna Division,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit my report on the condition of the people and prospects of the crops for the fortnight ending the 15th instant.

PATNA.

2. The weather throughout the fortnight has been very hot and sultry. The threshing and winnowing operations have almost been completed. Boro rice in the Barh sub-division is being reaped with a luxuriant outturn. The dearness of provision still continues, but the condition of the people is good up to date. Labourers are getting employment both in the fields and in building and thatching houses and huts, &c.

Dry fodder is plentiful, but the sun being so powerful, there is some difficulty in procuring green fodder.

The following table shows the prices ruling during the fortnight as compared with those of the preceding fortnight :—

	SUDDER.		BARH.		DINAPORE.		BEHAR.
	Past.	Present.	Past.	Present.	Past.	Present.	Past.	Present.
	SRS. CHS.	SRS. CHS.	SRS. CHS.	SRS. CHS.	SRS. CHS.	SRS. CHS.	SRS. CHS.	SRS. CHS.
Coarse rice	13 8	13 8	13 4	12 4	11 8	11 8	14 4	13 0
Indian corn	19 0	......	16 8	16 0	17 8	17 0	17 12	17 0
Wheat	15 0	15 8	14 8	13 8	13 8	14 0	15 12	14 4
Barley	20 8	22 0	19 0	18 0	21 0	20 0	23 8	21 8
Gram	20 0	21 8	20 0	18 0	21 0	20 8	19 4	18 6

SARUN.

3. There are no important food-crops on the ground at present deserving notice. Rain is wanted for cheena and indigo.

The prices of chief food-grains current during the last and present fortnight are compared below—

	Present fortnight.		Preceding fortnight.
	SRS.	CHS.	SRS.	CHS.
Wheat	13	8	14	8
Common rice	12	2	12	14
Marua	20	0	20	0
Gram	19	4	20	8
Indian corn	18	8	19	8
Arhar	17	8	21	0

The Magistrate says that the rise in the prices is chiefly due to combination of the local Bunias and partly to exportation.

The local stocks are yet full.

SHAHABAD.

4. The harvesting of cheena has been completed, and an average crop obtained. Sugarcane is now the only crop standing on the ground. It is doing well so far.

There is nothing new to report in regard to the condition of the people. The prices are rising on account of increased demand for export. Common rice is selling at 13¼ seers per rupee, and wheat 14 seers 14 chittacks.

GYA.

5. Area affected.—Same as reported in last fortnightly report.

6. General state of affected tract during last fortnight.—The circumstances of the people are now getting more tight than before. There are now no crops in the fields except cheena and sugarcane. No rain fell during the fortnight. Public health continues good.

The supply of grain in the market is reported to be sufficient. Common rice is selling at 13 seers at Gya, and 13½ seers at Aurungabad, and 12 seers at Nowada.

7. Public Works open.—A test work has been opened at Kharout-Seidilla road in Nowada sub-division, but no report about the attendance of the labourers on the work has been yet received.

Excavation of tanks is going on in the Government estate Sarawan in pergunnah Shorghotty.

About 500 coolies are employed on Gilandazi work in the Tikari estate.

Earthwork under tuccavi loans is affording employment to about 300 persons.

The average number of persons employed during the fortnight under the system of payment by result and task work was 74 and 600 respectively.

The number of men paid under section 31 of the Famine Code was three.

8. Gratuitous relief.—No expenditure under this head was incurred. Besides the men who are daily fed by the Mohunt of Bodh Gya and other such places, several hundreds are now-a-days employed as well as gratuitously fed at Husua in connection with the marriage festivities of Baboo Dirgopal Lal's daughter.

9. Advances.—Fresh sanction for making advances under the Land Improvement Act has been recently received. The applicants who have furnished sufficient securities have been informed that advances will be made to them on their appearing before the Collector. A great many cases are under enquiry.

MOZUFFERPORE.

10. Area affected.—The area affected remains the same. The Sub-divisional Officer says that pressure is beginning to be felt much more generally over the sub-division, and will require to be watched very carefully.

11. General state of the affected tracts.—No rain has fallen during the fortnight, and prospects will not improve till it falls. The number of persons on relief works has increased considerably, and will probably continue to increase. The country is bare of crops, the cheena crop having been a total failure. Here and there some labour is still being done in the fields to prepare them for rice and bhadoi sowings, but the amount of labour done is very small.

The Sub-divisional Officer reports that a considerable number of people whom he has seen working on the tanks at Parihar and Surund and on the roads in the neighbourhood certainly did appear to have become reduced by insufficiency of food. The condition of those receiving charitable relief is most miserable.

The public health still continues good. Some few cases of small-pox have been reported, but no cholera.

Prices are steadily rising, but it is noted that the statements show rice at Bela, which is the part where distress appeared to Mr. Bolton to be greatest, was selling at the end of this fortnight at 12 seers 8 chittacks, whereas in the statement for the previous fortnight the price at Bela was given as 10 seers 12 chittacks. The most considerable rise has been at Pupri and Majorgunge, from 12 seers 2 chittacks and 12 seers 9 chittacks last fortnight to 9 seers 8 chittacks and 11 seers 6 chittacks in this fortnight.

12. Grain stock.—Supply of grain in the market is reported to be sufficient. The Collector states that the distress is not owing to insufficiency of food-supply so much as it is from the high prices of food and insufficiency of works in the fields.

13 Public Works open.—Work is going on on 12 roads or sections of roads. Only four of these roads will afford work after the 15th June, and the Collector says it will be necessary to commence new roads. The rates on the roads were raised on the 13th May to 2¼ annas per 100 cubic feet, and the Sub-divisional Officer considers that it will be necessary soon to raise them to 2½ annas per 100 cubic feet. If prices of food continue to rise, the increase in the rate will be necessary, but the Sub-divisional Officer will be instructed to be careful not to raise the rates so as to make it more profitable for labourers to rush on our works than it would be for them to work in fields when rain falls. The average daily number of persons employed on the roads was 5,152.

Nine tanks are being dug or deepened. The average daily number of persons employed was 3,258. Five of these works were commenced during the fortnight. As the work will not last long, it will be necessary to provide other works.

The daily average number of men, women and children employed on Durbhunga Raj works during the past fortnight was 537.

CHUMPARUN.

14. Area affected.—There has been no change in the area affected.

15. General state of the affected tract.—No food-crop is at present standing on the ground. Rice and mung have been sown in a few places, and rain is anxiously looked for in every part of the district. The Collector says that want of water is very much felt—in fact a water famine is anticipated, all the rivers having been dammed in Nepal. The cheena crop is a failure, and the small outturn of the late rubbee harvest has nearly been consumed. The poorer classes depend entirely upon loans and labour. The number of labourers on the relief works has increased from 8,865 in the previous fortnight to 10,196 during that under review. The Collector recently visited a large number of villages supposed to be the worst off, and he says that pressure is certainly increasing, and no mitigation is expected until rain falls to admit of general sowings. A few cases of fever were reported from Dhaka Circle. Public health is otherwise good.

16. Public Works.—The number of persons employed on the several classes of works was as follows:—

District Board Works.
Daily wages	6
Piece-work	182
Task work	438
Civil Agency Works.
Daily wages	56
Piece-work	5,486
Task work for able-bodied persons	2,343
Ditto for infirm	1,685
		9,570
Total ...		10,196

The number of persons employed on works carried on through tuccavi loans was 1,050.

The markets in the affected tracts are still sufficiently supplied, but signs of depletion are appearing. Prices continue to rise, as will be seen from the following comparison :—

	Common rice.	Paddy.	Indian corn.	Gram.	Rahar.	Khesari.	Barley.
Previous fortnight, 30th April	11¼ to 12¼	18½	17¾ to 18½	18—4	20⅝	20¾	20⅝
Last fortnight, 15th May	10—15 to 11	16¼	15—14 to 16½	16—7	16—7	18½	16—7

It is reported that stocks are still being hoarded by a few wealthy persons in the hope of higher prices.

17. Gratuitous relief.—The number of persons who received gratuitous relief during the past fortnight was as follows.—

Men ...	...	...	...	30
Women ...	...	...	...	28
Children ...	...	...	...	6
		Total	...	64

The total expenditure under this head during the fortnight was Rs. 80-4.

DURBHUNGA.

18. Area affected.—No change.

19. General state of affected tracts.—The Collector reports that the present state of the people is not such as to cause any alarm of immediate starvation. Prices of the different food-grains eaten by the people have, however, risen. The continued drought has greatly reduced the outturn of the cheena, and has almost annihilated mung.

There has been no rain anywhere except a few drops, of no use, but rather damaging to the mung, in the neighbourhood of Lowkaha and Lowkahi. In the Nepal Terai there is reported to have been a heavy storm with hail.

Failure of rain at present gives no cause for alarm. Land is comparatively empty, and there are few crops to be damaged by drought. Hopes and fears about the weather are now connected with the coming year.

Indigo is suffering, but apparently more from what is called rot below the ground than from the scorching. The fact is insects have been at work at the roots, and done much mischief. This is a consequence of drought.

Public health remains good. Cholera appeared in one village in Madhubani sub-division. The disease was imported by a traveller from Nepal. Twenty-six deaths occurred out of 46 cases, but the infection was confined to this village.

20. Public Works open.—The returns show that 11,668 persons received employment during the last fortnight against 10,241 of the previous fortnight, as shown below—

				Last fortnight.	Previous fortnight.
Men ...	...	...	...	10,000	9,090
Women ..	...	...	...	866	571
Children ...	...	...	...	802	580
		Total	...	11,668	10,241

The Collector writes—

> "The increase in the number of women and children is the remarkable feature of this report, and one I do not like to see, though fortunately it cannot now be long before the main agricultural operation of the year will come into full activity."

The pressure is still visible chiefly in Circles A and B. The roads under repair in the north-eastern parts of the sub-division of Madhubani continue to afford sufficient employment to labourers in Circles C and D. The Sub-divisional Officer, during his late visit to Madhwapore, has seen no beggars on the roads.

It has been decided that no further relief will be afforded on road works, future operations being solely confined to tanks on completion of the repairs now in hand. The Sub-divisional Officer has selected sites for seven of these works, which will be opened in strict conformity with the principles of the Famine Code. It is the intention of the District Engineer to open these tanks at a uniform width of 200 feet. The area will depend on the demand for labour in the neighbourhood, any rush of labourers being met by an extension of length.

The stoppage of road work necessitates the opening of tanks at numerous centres, as it is not desirable that labourers should travel long distances to and from work. The arrangements which have been made to open tanks throughout Circles A and B will, it is believed, meet all possible demands.

Stocks throughout are reported to be ample, but holders are not selling in hopes of further rise.

The Collector says that crime has been palpably affected by the scarcity. The figures of the Phulparas, Khojowli, and Beniputti thanas, giving a comparison of the thefts and burglaries reported from January to date in the three years 1887, 1888, and 1889, leave it impossible to doubt that crime and high prices have been closely connected. The figures of Madhopore, which lies to the south of the affected area, and where prices have been comparatively low, indicate no local increase of crime—the strongest possible corroboration of the connection between crime and high prices.

21. Gratuitous relief.—No expenditure under this head was incurred during the past fortnight.

22. The important points I have to bring to notice in this report are—

(1) There has been no rain in any part of the affected districts during the fortnight.

(2) Prices have risen more or less in every district.

(3) There is a visible increase of crime in Durbhunga, which is apparently due to scarcity.

(4) Road work will soon be stopped in Durbhunga, future relief operations being confined to tank work.

(5) Pressure is being felt far beyond the limits of the affected tracts. This information comes in from many trustworthy sources. In Mozufferpore it will be necessary to provide work, not only outside the affected tract, but outside the Seetamarhi sub-division. I am now making arrangements for this.

(6) Importation of grain from North Bhagulpore to Madhubani, which had been checked by a cholera scare, has begun again.

(7) The total number of people employed on relief works of every kind, public and private, of the three northern districts, is 31,925, and is increasing.

23. I submit a statement showing the allotments made and the expenditure incurred on account of relief operations up to 30th ultimo.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE JAIL DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1888.

JAILS.

Dated Darjeeling, the 1st June 1889.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Jail Department for the year 1888.

Read also—

The Reports for the years 1886 and 1887, and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

DR. LETHBRIDGE was in charge from the 1st to the 14th April, when he went on a month's privilege leave. Mr. A. D. Larymore, Superintendent of the Alipore Jail, acted as Inspector-General of Jails in addition to his own duties till the 14th May, when Dr. Lethbridge resumed charge, and held it till the 1st November. He then went on special duty, and Dr. Purves, by whom the present report has been submitted, officiated as Inspector-General of Jails in his place up to the end of the year.

2. Judicial statistics.—The total jail population rose from the extraordinarily small number of 13,210, due to the Jubilee remissions on the 31st December 1887, to 13,985 on the 31st December 1888. The number of convicts increased from 11,950 to 12,821, and that of under-trial prisoners from 1,002 to 1,116, while the number of civil prisoners owing to recent changes in the law fell from 258 to 48. The following table shows the figure for convicts only during the last ten years:—

When the proposals, carried out in 1888, were made to reduce 14 District Jails to the status of Intermediate Jails, it was expected that provision would only have to be made for the accommodation of 11,000 prisoners, and as this number is now greatly exceeded, and there does not seem to be any prospect of an immediate decrease, the Inspector-General will be requested to report whether it is necessary, in order to avoid the risk of overcrowding, to restore any of the Intermediate Jails to their former status. Direct admissions increased from 29,942 in 1887 to 30,995—no doubt in great measure owing to the high prices of food-grains in the greater part of Bengal. The increase is not, however, very serious, as the average annual admissions from 1883 to 1887 amounted to 30,788. The average annual admissions from 1878 to 1882 were 34,233, while in 1878, the last year of great scarcity in Bengal, they numbered 38,929. The frequent transfer of prisoners from Intermediate to District and Central Jails accounts for the large increase under the head of admissions by transfer. The small number of releases under remission rules is due to the fact that many prisoners were released on account of the Jubilee in 1887, whose term of imprisonment would otherwise have expired in 1888. The slight decrease in the percentage of convicts confined in the Central Jails, 57·40 against 59·55 in 1887, is probably due to the same cause, as many long-term prisoners were released in 1887 who would otherwise have swelled the convict population of the Central Jails. The figures, however, show that these are fully utilized, and that a large proportion of the jail population is confined in the jails where the standard of discipline is highest and the labour exacted most suitable. The number released on appeal has increased from 1,903 in 1887 to 1,980 in 1888, and it is a very unsatisfactory feature of the criminal administration that the number has increased, year by year, since 1882, when the figure stood at 1,384.

3. That only 97 Bengal prisoners were transported as against 137 in 1886 and 168 in 1887 is due to the fact that the figures of those years were swollen, a number of prisoners, who had formerly been rejected for bodily infirmities, being sent to the Andamans under the new rules regulating the selection of convicts. The number sent in 1884 and 1885, respectively, with the more stringent rules then in force, were 37 and 35.

4. A further addition of 145 Burmese prisoners has raised the total number of this class under confinement in Bengal to 422. The Burmese are a dangerous class of prisoners owing to their quick temper and constant desire to escape, but their general behaviour is very good. During 1888 only 434 offences were recorded against 422 prisoners, while in 1887, with only 284 prisoners, 450 offences were recorded. They have, save in a few jails, kept excellent health on the ordinary diet allowed to native prisoners. Most of them are now trained artizans who do valuable work. They can generally speak the language of the district in which they are confined, and a considerable proportion are serving as convict officers in different grades. The responsibilities of jail officers have been considerably increased by having these prisoners in jails which were not intended for the accommodation of transportation prisoners, and the Lieutenant-Governor is still of opinion that something should be done towards introducing a scheme of ticket-of-leave for Burmese prisoners who have served for a certain time in the higher grades as prison officials.

5. As regards the nature of imprisonment, the only noticeable points are that, notwithstanding the increase in admissions, the number of prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment has decreased from 2,216 to 2,143, and that of prisoners sentenced to rigorous imprisonment with flogging from 103 to 72. The number of females admitted has decreased year by year from 1,595 in 1884 to 1,218 in 1888. The number of re-convicted prisoners admitted into jail rose from 3,472 in 1887 to 3,612 in 1888; but it is not possible to draw comparisons of any value with previous years until the new rules introduced in February 1887, regarding the identification and classification of habitual offenders, have been working some time longer. The number of persons imprisoned for failing to give security for good behaviour rose to 1,070. The number of convicts sentenced to corporal punishment continues to decrease yearly, and fell in 1888 to 1,234 from 1,373 in 1887; on the other hand the number of boys under 16 sentenced to be flogged increased in the same period from 377 to 394.

6. The number of under-trial prisoners admitted during the year rose from 26,240 in 1887 to 28,454, while the average period of detention fell from 17·75 to 16·14 days. The Inspector-General has in his report shown that, taking the Sessions hajat separately, the average period of detention was 44·39 days; he is requested in future reports to show separately the average detention of other prisoners also. It is impossible to calculate it from the figures given in the report, as it is not stated how many hajat prisoners were committed to Sessions.

7. Jail buildings.—In the Presidency Jail Rs. 47,804 were spent on the construction of an iron shed, pipes for filtered water, &c. At Dacca Rs. 19,221 were spent on double-storied barracks and the Superintendent's house. In the Bhaugulpore Central Jail Rs. 14,226 were expended on new barracks, and at Buxar a new workshed cost Rs. 14,929. Rs. 47,369 were expended on the building of eight new subsidiary jails and the erection of a pucca enclosure wall to the Kurseong subsidiary jail. The daily average number of prisoners employed on jail buildings was 1,334 against 1,124 in 1887. During the last 12 years Rs. 2,46,235 have, on an average, been provided yearly for building new jails and improving old buildings, and it now only remains to build a few more subsidiary jails to complete the substitution of permanent buildings for the thatched sheds which formerly served in many cases as jails. Some of the buildings on the old standard plan are still unsatisfactory from a sanitary point of view, and the Lieutenant-Governor will take measures in communication with the Inspector-General to effect gradual improvements in the sleeping wards in such cases.

8. Guards and escapes.—The high state of efficiency of the warder guard has been maintained, and it is satisfactory that it has been possible to do this with a much smaller number of punishments than was formerly required. The number of punishments has fallen from 3,133 in 1885, 2,715 in 1886, and 2,359 in 1887, to 1,815 in 1888. Excluding warnings and extra drill, there were only 1,121 punishments among 1,584 men, the number to which the establishment has been reduced from 1,707 in 1887, owing to the reduction of 14 District Jails to the Intermediate class The number dismissed has fallen from 216 in 1885 to 81 in 1888. Such results were anticipated by Dr. Lethbridge in his report for 1886 as likely to follow when those most frequently reported and punished should have been weeded out.

9. The escapes of convicts from jails and subsidiary jails numbered 21, against 13 in 1887 and 17 in 1886. The most serious of those cases was the escape of a gang of eight convicts from the Darjeeling Jail. These men (three Bhooteahs and five Pahariahs) were at work in the bakery at night, and having first murdered the convict warder in charge of the gang and responsible for its safe custody had no difficulty in making their escape not only from the jail but also from British teritory. Sir Steuart Bayley was satisfied after a full enquiry that there were serious defects in the management of this jail for which the Superintendent was to some extent to blame, as he was not in the habit of visiting the jail at night and examining into the system of guarding in force. A specially selected officer was deputed to take charge of the jail in place of the former Superintendent whose resignation was accepted, but little success has attended the efforts made to recapture the escaped convicts, two of whom only have been brought back. It has hitherto been the practice to confine hillmen, irrespective of the length of their sentences, in the Darjeeling Jail, as they do not keep good health in the plains. In view, however, of the proximity of the Independent States of Nepal, Bhutan and Sikkim, it is not safe to retain hillmen with sentences exceeding one year in the Darjeeling Jail, and orders were issued for their transfer to the Presidency Jail. It is now reported that they do not keep good health in Calcutta, and they will be transferred to one of the Behar Central Jails in the hope that the climate of Behar will suit them better. There were seven other escapes from District or Central Jails, and in every case the jail official responsible was judicially punished. It is satisfactory to note that none of the Burmese prisoners escaped.

10. Prison discipline.—As the question of recording jail offences is now awaiting the decision of the Government of India, it is unnecessary to deal with the subject in this Resolution. There is a decrease in the number of offences from 35,824 in 1887 to 29,054 in 1888. Corporal punishment was only inflicted in 245 cases as compared with 266 in 1887. Punishments by Criminal Courts also fell from 44 in 1887 to 29 in 1888. The only form of punishment showing an increase is solitary confinement with reduced diet: the numbers are 251 in 1887 and 352 in 1888. This form of punishment has been found effective in the case of persistent idlers and contumacious prisoners who are not strong enough to be whipped, and is resorted to on Sundays when no work is exacted. Fetters were imposed as a punishment in 8,759 cases against 11,640 in 1887, and in only 64 cases was it resorted to for safe custody.

11. The percentage of punishments to the total average number of convicts employed as convict officers was 200·7 as against 294·2 in 1887. There has been a considerable increase in the number shown as employed, as the convict warders employed to take the place of the paid staff are now included in Statement VIII, and it may be necessary for the Inspector-General of Jails to revise the sanctioned scale of 4 per cent. of the jail population, which has hitherto been considered sufficient. The percentage actually employed was 5·93 in 1888 compared with 4·34 in 1887.

12. The new mark rules have continued to work well, and it is satisfactory that there has been an increase in the number of remissions gained by prisoners undergoing terms of imprisonment not exceeding five years from 304 in 1886 and 293 in 1887 to 334 in 1888.

13. Expenditure.—The gross expenditure for all classes of jails, excluding that accounted for in the Public Works Department, rose from Rs. 9,68,033 in 1887 to Rs. 10,68,161 in 1888. The cost per prisoner, however, owing to the larger average population, fell from Rs. 79-0-4 per head to Rs. 77-12-8. There is a large increase in the charges under the heads Dieting of prisoners, Hospital charges, Clothing and Miscellaneous contingencies. The only head under which there is a material decrease is Establishment. The expenditure for central, district, and intermediate jails only has risen from Rs. 8,12,576 to Rs. 9,08,410, the increase being spread over every item, excepting establishment and petty construction and repairs.

14. Diet charges have risen from Rs. 2,44,730 in 1887 to Rs. 2,95,680 in 1888, partly owing to the larger daily average prison population, and partly owing to the higher prices paid for the chief articles of diet, which has led to an increase in the diet expenditure per prisoner in central, district, and intermediate jails from Rs. 20-4 to Rs. 21-10-10. By far the most important article of diet is rice, and its price rose from Rs. 1-12-8 per maund to Rs. 1-14-10. Maize, dâl and salt also rose in price; while wheat, meat and fish fell. Vegetables and other products worth Rs. 36,284 were obtained from the jail gardens by prison labour. In the Rajshahye, Burdwan, and Khoolna Jails vegetables worth Rs. 52 had to be purchased in the market, owing, it is said, to the insufficient rainfall. It would be desirable in future to give in detail the earnings of each jail under this head, as doubtless greater efforts would be made to economise if each jail got credit for its own earnings. It is to be hoped that Dr. Lethbridge's suggestion, that in future the jailors will be held responsible if condiments have to be purchased from outside, will lead to further economy by obliging all jailors to grow the condiments required in their jail gardens. Steps are being taken to organise a proper system of fish-breeding in jail tanks, which should lead to a considerable saving in the cost of diet. The value of fish supplied for jail consumption should in future be shown under this head among jail products. Making every allowance for the high price of cereals and extra diet given to prisoners in a bad state of health in the Gya Jail, the expenditure there seems excessive as compared with other jails in the same division. In considering the average cost of diet per prisoner, it must be remembered that in Bengal every prisoner sentenced to rigorous imprisonment receives full labouring diet, that no scales of short diets are in use, and that under-trial prisoners now receive full labouring diet.

15. The increase in the average cost of hospital charges, from Rs. 68-3-11 in 1887 to Rs. 76-6 in 1888, is the result of a more liberal scale of diet. The cost of clothing prisoners has risen from Rs. 44,067 in 1887 to Rs. 58,309 in 1888. While this is partly due to the increased number of prisoners, it is not explained why the average cost per head should have risen from Rs. 3-10 to Rs. 4-4. In Bengal the clothing manufactured by jail labour is charged at the market value, and the difference between this and the actual cost of the raw materials is credited to Government in the Manufacturing Department.

16. Contingencies have increased from Rs. 81,190 to Rs. 1,09,213. Of the increase, Rs. 3,871 is due to the increase in transfers, Rs. 11,537 to the payment of municipal taxes for jail buildings, and Rs. 2,105 to the travelling expenses of jail officials, including, for the first time, those of Civil Hospital Assistants sent to do duty in jails. As regards the first item, the success of the organization of jail establishments in Bengal is greatly due to the fact that jailors and their subordinates are not allowed to remain more than three or four years in one jail—a measure which has materially contributed to the efficiency and trustworthiness of the jail service. The transfer charges have been increased by the reduction of 14 district to intermediate jails; the rules requiring the retransfer before release of all prisoners on the police register to the districts in which their homes are situated also accounts for much of this expenditure, and this portion of it which is attended with the best results in the police administration cannot be controlled by the jail administration. So, too, a change of system in paying the municipal tax on jail buildings has saddled the jail expenditure with a charge of Rs. 15,734. Were municipal revenues in Bengal raised as in other provinces by an octroi, from which the Lieutenant-Governor understands articles consumed in jails are exempted, this charge would disappear. This shows the difficulty of comparing jail expenditure in different provinces without some definite rules as to the charges to be entered in statements X and XI of the report. Contingencies include Rs. 8,443 for dieting of defendants paid through Magistrates. This is charged to the Jail budget for convenience of account keeping.

17. Employment of prisoners, and manufactures.—The average number of prisoners sentenced to labour increased from 10,698·30 in 1887 to 12,210·17 in 1888; of whom 5,368·39 were employed on manufactures, or 43 96 per cent., against 46·03 in the previous year, while 13 9 per cent. were sick or convalescent against 12·4 in 1887. The other prisoners were employed on prison duties as prison officers, on jail buildings in jail gardens, &c. The net cash earnings decreased from Rs. 2,99,870, or Rs. 60-14 per head on the average number of convicts employed on manufactures, to Rs. 2,66,898, or Rs. 49-12 per head. The net profits increased from Rs. 2,42,741 in 1887 to Rs. 2,69,564; the difference in the result between net profits and net cash earnings is due to the fact that there was a much larger stock of raw materials and manufactured articles in hand on the 1st January 1887 than on the 1st January 1888, and the average profit per head sentenced to labour is nearly the same as in the previous year, namely, Rs. 22-1 as against Rs. 22-11.

18. The average earning of each prisoner in Central Jails is shown in the following table:—

	Average earning per prisoner, 1888.	Average earning per prisoner, 1887.
Presidency Jail	73·0	58·3
Alipore "	43·7	42·7
Buxar "	21·3	40·2
Midnapore "	15·1	30·8
Rajshahye "	12·4	21·2
Bhagulpore "	10·5	0·0
Dacca "	3·7	3·0

19. The working of the Presidency Jail was affected in 1887 by the Jubilee remissions, and its earnings are now again almost the same as in 1886. The great falling off in the Buxar Central Jail is reported to be due to a restricted outturn, as a large stock from the previous year remained in hand. In Midnapore the decreased earnings are attributed to light tasks owing to the indifferent health of the prisoners and to slightly lower rates for the outturn. In the Rajshahye Jail the outturn was considerably reduced in March and April through the failure of the contractor to supply the full amount of castor seed due under the previous year's contract; and while the seed supply for the year was purchased at a higher rate than usual, advantage could not be taken of the rise in the market rate of oil, as the greater portion of the production was supplied to Provincial State Railways at a uniform contract rate.

20. Subsidiary Jails.—The management of subsidiary jails has not been in all cases satisfactory. It is desirable that the Inspector-General of Jails should devote close attention to enforcing a stricter supervision and improved administration on the Deputy Superintendents in charge of these jails. Rupees 70,106 has been expended on subsidiary buildings against Rs. 38,857 in 1887. During 1888 new subsidiary jails were built to replace the old buildings at eight stations. The condition of the warder guard was on the whole satisfactory. Convicts were detained on an average for 8·21 days at subsidiary jails before being sent on to district or central Jails, the longest period recorded since 1881. At several of these jails prisoners were detained to work on new buildings, and in some cases of jails showing a high average detention they were kept on account of sickness. It is also to be remarked that the subsidiary jail at Palamow has now been converted into an intermediate jail, but that prisoners with sentences of three months and under were detained at this jail though it was classed as a subsidiary jail during the year under report. In Jamalpore, Arrareah, Nowgong, Satkhira, Bagerhat, and the Khond Mehals under-trial prisoners were detained from 27·17 to 21·57 days. This matter will be dealt with in the Judicial Department. There were 19 escapes as against 17 in 1887 and 20 in 1886. The average cost of each prisoner, excluding the expenditure in the Public Works Department, fell from Rs. 127-8-7 in 1887 to Rs. 121-6-7, owing to the increase in the daily average number of prisoners from 768·38 to 847·45.

21. Vital Statistics.—There is ample accommodation in the Bengal Jails for far more than the present number of prisoners. It is reported, however, that five of the district jails were more or less overcrowded during some part of the year, and the Inspector-General is requested to report how he proposes to prevent this in future. He is also requested to report how far it is possible to provide within the present buildings increased accommodation for under-trial prisoners.

22. The sickness and mortality of convicts and under-trial prisoners taken together, for the past 10 years, are shown in the following statement:—

23. Notwithstanding the great increase in the death-rate, there are only three years during the last quarter of a century which show a lower mortality, and excluding the deaths from cholera, there are only two years in which the mortality has been so low. The highest death-rate is reported from Lohardugga—191·3 per mille. Out of 26 deaths 10 were due to cholera. It is reported that the health of the district was very bad. The very high death-rates in Singbhoom and Maldah—169·8 and 181·9 per mille respectively—are also connected with the unhealthy state of those districts. In Rungpore, where there was a death-rate of 173·6 per mille, 95·5 of it was due to cholera. The death-rate of cholera generally, 9·7 per mille, has only been exceeded in seven years during the last quarter of a century. There were no cases in 30 out of 44 jails, and in only six were there more than two cases. The disease was worst at Rajshahye, where there were 71 cases and 51 deaths. In the six jails with most cases the cholera had a firm hold on the outside population before any prisoners were affected. Measures are now being taken to provide camping grounds for all central and district jails.

24. Though the most marked feature in the year was the increased mortality from cholera, yet there was also an increase in the death-rate from other diseases. The death-rate from dysentery and diarrhœa rose from 12·6 to 15·5. In the case of remittent and continued fever it rose from 1·5 to 2·3; on the other hand in intermittent fever it fell from 2·5 to 1·8.

25. The Lohardugga, Maldah, Rungpore, Singbhoom and Rajshahye Jails, which show the highest mortality in 1888, have had very few deaths during the past four months. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find there has been no improvement in the Gya Jail, and trusts the special measures now being taken will have good results.

26. The following table shows the extent to which prisoners discharged from jails in 1888 improved in health during their residence in jails:—

	1				2
	State of health on admission of those who were discharged from jail, as per column 2.				State of health on discharge of those who were discharged from jail, as per column 1.
	Good.	Indifferent.	Bad.	Total.	Good.	Indifferent.	Bad.	Total.
In 1888	23,285	8,794	2,793	*34,872	26,352	6,774	1,746	*34,872
Ratio per cent. to total number discharged from the jail	66·77	25·22	8·01	100·00	75·57	19·42	5·01	100·00

* Excluding the figures from the Bogra Intermediate Jail.

27. These figures show a slightly greater improvement in the health of the prisoners on discharge as compared with their state on admission, than the corresponding return for last year. As regards loss of weight, however, 20·6 per cent. lost weight in 1888 against 19·3 in 1887, while 3·46 lost over five pounds against 2·86 in the previous year. None of the precautions referred to in last year's Resolution have been abandoned, and the increased death-rate does not appear to be in any way due to any relaxation in the efforts of the jail authorities to keep up a high sanitary standard. It is unfortunately impossible to compare the statistics of jail mortality with that of the outside population, as, notwithstanding the efforts made to improve death registration, the statistics are still far too imperfect to make it possible to base any calculations on them. From* calculations made at the last census, it would appear that the average death-rate in Bengal is nearly 40 per mille, while the returns for 1887 gave only 23·46.

* Report on the Census of British India, Vol. I, page 171.

28. Inspection.—Dr. Lethbridge inspected 29 jails and 5 subsidiary jails, and Dr. Purves 9 jails during 1888. There was a slight decrease in the number of visits paid by Judges, who might, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks with advantage, visit jails at their own stations more frequently. Considering that the Alipore, Midnapore, Bhagulpore, Rajshahye and Dacca Central Jails are also the district jails of their respective districts, the number of visits paid them by Magistrates were too few. Though not mentioned in the jail report, the Lieutenant-Governor learns that the non-official visitors paid 137 visits to the jails under their supervision, and showed by their notes that they took an interest in the general management of the jails. This subject should be specially noticed in the annual reports of Jail Superintendents in future years.

29. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to record his appreciation of the good work done during the year by the Inspector-General and the officers of the department generally. There has been a steady improvement, more or less marked, in every branch of jail administration, and the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that no effort is spared to remedy any defects that may be brought to light.

Eastern Bengal State Railway.—Institute Rs. 1,510; schools Rs. 2,566; volunteering Rs. 508-10-9; assistance to employés Rs. 2,431-10; amusements Rs. 730; other items Rs. 146-7-6.

Nalhati State Railway —Schools Rs. 84.

RESOLUTION—In the Resolution of the Fine Fund reports for last year, attention was drawn to the unnecessarily high balance of the Eastern Bengal State Railway system. It is observed from the present reports that the balance of the Eastern Bengal State Railway and the Nalhati State Railway has been reduced. That of the former line is susceptible of further reduction, whilst a tendency to increase is noticed on the Tirhoot State Railway. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor would again draw the attention of Managers to the expediency of keeping the balances of the fund as low as possible; in funds of this nature, large balances are not desirable. Rs. 2,402-10 was spent by the Eastern Bengal State Railway in supplying menials employed in out-door work, who have to undergo exposure, with blankets; Rs. 400 was advanced to the Volunteer Prize Fund, and Rs. 79 to employés; the two latter amounts have since been recovered.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, in the Public Works Department, and to the Managers of the Bengal Provincial Railways, for information, and that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT IV (B. C.) OF 1883 DURING THE YEAR 1888-89.

The 3rd June 1889.—The following report is published for general information.

C. CUTHBERTSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 29M.M., dated Calcutta, the 25th May 1889.

From—A. SMITH, Esq., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

UNDER section 30 of the Licensed Warehouse and Fire-Brigade Act IV (B. C.) of 1883, I have the honour to submit herewith the usual statements A, B, and C, containing particulars connected with the working of the Act during the year 1888-89.

2. The first statement shews the names of the different hydraulic presses, jute mills, cotton mills, hand screws and warehouses for the storage of jute licensed in the suburbs during the year and the amount of license fees collected from them, the second represents in the prescribed form the receipts and expenditure under the Act, and the last contains details of the fires that occurred during the year.

3. There has been no change in the number of hydraulic presses, jute mills, cotton mills and hand screws, but in the case of jute warehouses it increased from 108 to 120, 12 such houses having been newly added to the list. The hand screw in No. 1, Ramgopal Ghose's Lane, which was unoccupied in 1887-88, has been worked during the year of report. Of the 120 jute warehouses, 29 remained unoccupied against 32 in the year preceding, house No. 33 not being taken into account, it being a double entry, vide note against the entry. The notes in the remark column of statement A will show all these facts and furnish other necessary particulars connected with the working of the warehouses.

4. The total amount of license fees realized from all classes of warehouses during the year amounted to Rs. 35,398-3, viz., Rs 21,624-13 from hydraulic presses, Rs. 1 088 from jute mills, Rs 240 from cotton mills, Rs. 645 from hand screws, and Rs. 11,800-6 from jute warehouses, against a total sum of Rs. 33,975-12, viz., the same amounts from hydraulic presses, jute mills and cotton mills, Rs. 165 from hand screws, and Rs 10,857-15 from jute warehouses received during the preceding year. Thus there has been a net increase of Rs 1,422-7 in the license fees during the year of report, as compared with the result of the previous year.

5. There were nine fires during the year as per details in statement C supplied by the Police, causing a loss to the extent of about Rs. 4,38,175 against 11 fires and a loss of Rs. 10,250 in the previous year.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·5° lower; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

N.B.—In the monthly abstract for April 1889 read "26" for "56," the number of hours with wind from N. W.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numb[illegible] are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past [illegible] stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 31st of May 1889.

CALCUTTA, the 4*th June* 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, DURING THE WEEK ENDING 31ST MAY 1889.

Though local showers have continued to fall throughout the week, weather conditions have been much more settled than previously, and have become of the usual hot-weather character. In consequence of the unsettled weather which was passing off at the end of the previous week, pressure at the beginning of the present one was rising somewhat rapidly; temperature was everywhere several degrees below the normal; humidity and cloud proportion continued high, and rain fell over the greater part of the province. Pressure continued very uniform for some days over the whole province, and light winds or calms prevailed. The rise of pressure lasted only two days, and a fall setting in on Monday continued till the end of the week, except on Wednesday, when a slight rise occurred everywhere. Temperature was rising on Saturday, and continued steadily to rise in all districts except Assam. On Monday temperature was in excess in Assam and at many stations in North, East and South-West Bengal, but was still about 2° in defect in Behar and Orissa. In consequence of the steady rise, high temperatures prevailed during the latter half of the week. With the rise of temperature, humidity and cloud began to diminish, more especially in the western districts, where dry hot weather prevailed from Wednesday till the end of the week. Though after the first two days pressure was generally falling, the uniform pressure did not continue, and winds in consequence increased in strength. This change began to set in on Tuesday, when the easterly element in the wind directions disappeared, and south-westerly winds extended as far as the centre of Behar. The showers after the first day or two were confined to the eastern districts, and especially to Assam. In South-West Bengal and Orissa nor'-westers occasionally occurred, and a rather severe storm passed over False Point on Wednesday; the wind velocity rising to 52 miles an hour. By the middle of the week rain had entirely ceased in Behar and Chutia Nagpur. The showers that have occurred during the week have been generally light, falls of over an inch being very exceptional.

Pressure.—Pressure changes have been generally small, and the more rapid ones occurred in Behar, Chutia Nagpur, and North Bengal during the first half of the week. On Friday there was a general rise of over a twentieth of an inch everywhere, and more than a tenth in Chutia Nagpur. The rise on the following day was not large, but pressure was everywhere in excess, especially at the western stations, where it amounted to more than ·1″. On Thursday pressure was generally in defect, though by very small amounts. The largest fall of the week occurred on that day, and varied from ·05 inch to ·1 inch. At the end of the week pressure was in excess at all stations in Orissa, and at a few in South-West Bengal; elsewhere there was defect, largest in North Bengal and Behar, and amounting at some stations to nearly a tenth of an inch. As stated above, pressure was very uniform in the early part of the week, the greatest difference not being much over a twentieth of an inch. This difference increased during the week, and on Friday amounted to about three twentieths. Mean pressure has been everywhere in excess, the largest being in Orissa, South-West Bengal, and Behar, where it varied from 05 inch to ·07 inch; elsewhere the excess has been generally small.

Temperature.—From being very low, temperature kept steadily rising, and by the end of the week was in all districts, except Assam, considerably above the normal. The largest defect on Saturday, the 25th, was nearly 7°, and the average defect about 3°. This defect continued in Behar till about the middle of the week, at which time there was excess elsewhere of from one to four degrees. It scarcely changed from this in the eastern districts, but on Thursday and Friday there was a large excess in Behar and Chutia Nagpur, and at some stations of North Bengal. At Rampore Beauleah it amounted to nearly 10°. Average temperature has been generally slightly in excess; in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur the excess, if any, has been slight; in Orissa and Assam it has been under one degree; in other districts it has been about 1·5°, except in North Bengal, where it amounts to nearly 3°.

Rainfall.—Light showers were fairly general in the early half of the week, but these entirely ceased in the western part of the province during the last three days. Only in exceptional cases did the amount of rain exceed one inch, and rain is therefore everywhere largely in defect of the normal. The largest falls were in Orissa and East Bengal, and exceeded one inch; elsewhere the average fall was under half an inch, except in Chutia Nagpur where it amounted to ·55 inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 31st May 1889 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

MEMORANDUM.

THE mortuary returns of the districts in Bengal (excluding Kissenganj Police-station in Purneah, from which no return has yet been received) for the month of February 1889, furnish the following particulars:—

1. The deaths of 96,879 persons were registered among a population of 66,055,695, representing a death-rate of 17·52 per 1,000 per annum, against 23·04 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 19·08 per 1,000 during the corresponding month of 1888, indicating, as compared with both the past periods, a large reduction in the registration of deaths.

2. The highest deaths-rates were returned from the following districts:—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Backerganj	27·84	Rungpore	24·84
Noakhali	27·00	Julpaiguri	24·60
Dinajpur	25·68	Birbhum	24·24

3. As compared with the casualties of the corresponding month of the past year, the mortality from fever had diminished considerably, the death-rate from injury was stationery, and there were no noticeable differences in fatal results from the other diseases; see figures given below:—

4. Cholera and fever caused the greatest loss of life in the following districts; the other diseases did not exhibit high mortality anywhere, excepting in Puri, where 13·20 per 1,000 of the population died from the maladies classed under the head of "Other causes":—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.

INCREASES.

	Tons.
Seeds	2,343

Goalundo, Serajganj, and Naraingunj show the principal increases. There was a good business done early in the month at Calcutta in linseed for America.

Railway plant, &c.	1,129

DECREASES.

Rice	8,632

Due to partial failure of the rice crop in Bengal. Parts of the northern section seem to have suffered considerably, while Parbatipur and Dinagepur show substantial increases.

The decrease on the southern section is general.

Jute	2,937

Dacca and Naraingunj show large decreases in screwed jute. There are also decreases in unscrewed jute from the northern section.

Betelnuts	637

Decrease from the northern section.

Salt	2,758

The principal falling off is from Chitpore, 59,357 maunds. It was understood, owing to some statement made by the Secretary of State for India in the House, that the duty would be reduced in April, and despatches were withheld.

Sugar	953

Decreased outturn and a dull market.

Firewood	694

Ordinary fluctuations.

Increase.	Tons.
Cotton piece-goods—
(1) European	44
Probably due to an alteration of classification. There is a corresponding decrease under cotton twist and yarn.
Grains—
(4) Gram	19
This increase is due to there being no traffic under this head last year.
Oils—
(3) Others	14
This increase is due to high market rate in the local bazars.
Provisions—
(3) Others	13
Due to greater imports of potatoes this year.
Salt	46
The former stock being exhausted, the merchants imported greater quantities to keep in stores. Hence the increase.
Oilseeds—
(1) Linseed	72
Due to favourable demand.

Decrease.
Coal	256
Due to previous stock not being exhausted.
Cotton twist and yarn—
(1) European	44
Grains—
(2) Rice	337
Due to less exports owing to the unfavourable state of crops this year.
Railway plant and rolling-stock	23
Due to less materials being carried this year.
Oilseeds—
(2) Mustard and rape	59
(6) Others	19
Due to less demand.
Silk, raw—
(2) Indian	11
Due to dull market.

Intended alteration of Savage Island Light—Port of Akyab.

THE Port Officer, Rangoon, through Commander Alfred Carpenter, R.N., in charge Marine Survey of India, has given notice that it is intended to alter both the height and character of the Savage Island light at the entrance of the Port of Akyab, on the coast of Arracan, by raising the present tower 20 feet, and substituting a 1st class light for the present 3rd class one.

The alterations will be taken in hand at the commencement of the next cold season.

During the alterations the present light will be exhibited from a temporary wooden structure close to and to the southward of the present Light-house, and of the same height, that is, 98 feet above H. W. level.

The transferring of the present light from the present structure to the temporary wooden one will take some days, and during this time a blue light will be burnt from the foot of the present structure every quarter of an hour from sunset to sunrise.

As the present light, when removed to the temporary structure, will be obscured to the northward by the permanent Light-house, a white light will be hoisted on the flagstaff at Fakir Point, as a guide to vessels entering and leaving the port at night. The new light will be a first class dioptric one, fixed and flashing at intervals of one minute, exhibited from a masonry tower at a height of 118 feet above H. W. level, and visible on a clear night at a distance of 16 to 18 miles. Its arc of visibility will be the same as the present light, viz., 264° from seaward.

Removal of Karwar Rock Buoy, and direction of the rock indicated by two large boulders.

THE following information has been received through Commander Alfred Carpenter, R.N., in charge Marine Survey of India:—

Karwar.—The Port Officer of Karwar has given notice that the Karwar Rock Buoy has been removed and will not be replaced. Two large boulders on the west side of Karwar Head have been white-washed, and the lower boulder of the two has a vertical red stripe.

When these two marks are in line, they indicate the direction of the rock.

Vessels approaching or leaving the port should avoid that line until well clear of the vicinity of the rock.

INDIA—EAST.

MADRAS COAST.

Navigators cautioned to use the lead freely off the Kistna River.

Masulipatam.—CAPTAIN FRANKS, of the S.S. Madura, reports that the soundings are shoaling off Masulipatam, and it is probable that there has been a good deal of change altogether off the Kistna river since the last survey.

Vessels approaching that coast should use the lead freely. It will probably be resurveyed in the winter of 1890.
